Dag Leaves On Mission To Mideast

Secretary General Of U.N. To Confer With Burns Today

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Nov. 14 (AP)—Dag Hammarskjöld flew tonight on a dramatic mission to "establish peace and order" in the Middle East after flashing urgent instructions for the new U.N. peace patrol to go to Egypt.

He thrust aside all diplomatic obstacles in decisive gestures and took off from Idlewild Airport, New York en route to Italy and thence to Cairo. He told newsmen he was going to Cairo "to do what I can to assist in setting up and getting going a United Nations emergency force in Egypt."

War Clouds Gather

The U.N. secretary general acted as fresh and ominous war clouds gathered over the critical zone where Egypt, Britain, France and Israel observed an uneasy cease-fire.

Dispatches from Moscow received here reported that Egypt had asked the Soviet Union to permit thousands of "volunteers" to go to Egypt. Some worried delegates, who would not be identified, said such a move almost certainly would mean war. They expressed the hope Hammarskjöld's soldiers would be in Egypt in time to forestall any new complications.

In Washington, President Eisenhower praised Hammarskjöld personally, lauded his efforts, and said the United States would oppose—through the U.N.—the introduction of Soviet volunteers into Egypt.

Dag And Burns To Confer

As these developments occurred, Hammarskjöld met with an advisory committee created by the emergency Assembly last week and went over arrangements for the operation. He had obtained the final word from Britain, France, Egypt and Israel and had tied up many loose diplomatic ends.

At the end of an hour and a half session with this committee, he sent a "go ahead" cable to Maj. Gen. E.L.M. Burns, commanding general of the United Nations force. Burns was at the Capodichino staging area near Naples with the early arrivals for the U.N. emergency force.

Burns will confer tomorrow with Hammarskjöld as the secretary general pauses in Rome on his way to Cairo.

Oil Emergency Plan Deferred

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP)—The United States has decided not to trigger its standby plans for supplying oil to Europe until the U.N. police force has established order in the Suez area, informed officials said today.

Although this leaves Western Europe facing a critical oil shortage and rationing, it was disclosed that the United States is determined to do nothing which might endanger U.N. efforts to achieve a peaceful settlement of the Middle Eastern crisis.

The government was described as particularly anxious not to give the appearance of aiding the British and French in their conflict with the Arab nations by replacing the crude oil shipments cut off by the blocking of the Suez Canal and the closing down of some Mediterranean pipeline facilities.

This policy inevitably heightens the pressure on Britain and France to cooperate with U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld by withdrawing their troops from Egypt and clearing the way for a U.N.-supervised restoration of the vital crude oil flow.

In the fortnight since Franco-British military action began in Egypt the U.S. government has not even called together the petroleum industry's Middle East Emergency Committee. No meeting has yet been scheduled, although previously it had met weekly or oftener.

Negroes Vote To Terminate Bus Boycott

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Nov. 14 (AP)—A group of wildly cheering Negroes, rejoicing over the U.S. Supreme Court ruling against bus segregation, voted tonight to end their long boycott of Montgomery buses.

Their action came a few hours after a federal court declined to interfere with a state court injunction against a car pool used by the boycotters.

The Negroes agreed to start riding city buses again as soon as the Supreme Court's decision is put into effect and the buses are desegregated.

Formal Decision Awaited

But, one of their leaders explained, it probably will be several days before the formal decision reaches Montgomery. The Negroes shouted wild approval of the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr.'s declaration that until then "we will continue to walk or share rides with friends."

The Negroes approved the recommendation from King and other boycott leaders that the protest against segregated buses be brought to an end.

King cautioned the crowd that "all of us have a basic responsibility to seek to implement this noble decision." With that went an appeal to the Negroes to "be calm and reasonable."

Injunction Ends Car Pool

The car pool which has transported the estimated 50,000 Negroes during the boycott which began last Dec. 5 already has ended under a state court injunction.

The Negroes sought an order in federal court today to stop the city from interfering with motor pool operations, but U.S. Dist. Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr., refused to issue an injunction.

Southern Railroads Ask Freight Rate Hike

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP)—Forty-nine major southern railroads today joined eastern and western carriers in asking the Interstate Commerce Commission for an "emergency" 7 per cent freight rate increase.

As in the case of the eastern and western lines, the southern roads based their petition on recent wage increases in the industry and a continuing advance in material costs.

Meat To Be Plentiful Next Year But Prices Will Rise

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP)—Meat supplies for the United States will be plentiful again next year but prices will be somewhat higher, the Agriculture Department forecast today.

Livestock production and slaughter, however, will ease below the 1956 record volume.

Hogs slaughter particularly will be under 1956. Fully as many cattle will likely be slaughtered as in 1956 but the average weights

Husband Forced Wife To Make Her Own False Teeth

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Nov. 14 (AP)—The first thing Mrs. Marjorie Lee McClurken, 48, is going to do with her $500,000 divorce settlement is to have a dentist make her a new set of false teeth.

Before the divorce was granted yesterday, she testified, her husband Jonathan, 53, a building contractor, forced her to make her own with a do-it-yourself kit.

Asian Leaders Urge Russians Leave Hungary

NEW DELHI, India, Nov. 14 (AP)—Speedy withdrawal of Soviet troops from Hungary was urged today by the Prime Ministers of India, Burma, Indonesia, and Ceylon.

In a joint communique, these Asian leaders also expressed "strong disapproval and distress at the aggression and intervention by the great powers against weaker countries" in the Middle East.

The declaration was issued at the end of a three-day meeting to consider Israel's attack on Egypt and the British-French military action in the Suez Canal zone. The text, by mentioning "the great powers," could be taken to apply also to Russian activities in the Middle East.

The communique, noting that the four South Asian Prime Ministers represent 475 million persons working for peace, said of Hungary:

"They regret that Soviet forces which had been withdrawn in accordance with the policy laid down in the statement issued by the government of the Soviet Union on Oct. 30, were reintroduced into Budapest a few days later. The Prime Ministers consider it the inalienable right of every country to shape for itself its own destiny, free from all external pressures."

"They are of the opinion that the Soviet forces should be withdrawn from Hungary speedily, and that the Hungarian people should be left free to decide their own future and form of government they will have without intervention from any quarter."

Soviets' Exile Of Hungarians Decried By U.S.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP)—President Eisenhower today decried Russia's methods in stamping out the Hungarian revolt as "the negation of all justice and right in the world."

Another manifestation of American concern with events in Hungary came from the State Department. A spokesman for the department said Russia is deporting Hungarian patriots to the Soviet Union in sealed railway cars.

He expressed "revulsion" at such rights.

Right To Free Elections

Eisenhower, discussing U.S. policy in the light of recent developments in Hungary, said "we simply insist upon the right of all people to be free to live under governments of their own choosing."

It would be a "most terrible mistake," the President told his news conference, for "the free world" ever to accept the enslavement of the Eastern European tier of nations as part of the future world.

The State Department announced it had its own confirmation that Hungarians are being herded into railway cars, locked inside and taken away. The radio broadcast, heard in Vienna, said only that the Hungarians were being taken to the east.

Rebellion Still Flickers

The State Department's information was that they were disappearing inside the Soviet Union. Even the Budapest radio, controlled by the Russian-imposed government of Premier Janos Kadar, acknowledged that the mass deportations have so far failed to restore order among the rebellious Hungarians. Railway workers are striking in protest against the action, the radio said, and factory workers are leaving their jobs in increasing numbers as the news spreads.

Earlier difficulties with the super heating equipment installed in this second nuclear submarine, made known in September, have been intensified in recent weeks by the chemical reaction caused by the sodium used to transfer the atomic generated heat to the driving machinery.

The Navy has said little about the precise nature of the new difficulties, but a spokesman said today they have been under intensive study and that a decision is expected shortly.

Ike Says U.S. Opposes Red Intervention

President Supports U.N. Action To Block Soviet 'Volunteers'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Nov. 14 (AP)—President Eisenhower pledged American support today for United Nations action to block Russia and Red China from sending weapons and so-called "volunteers" into the troubled Middle East.

At a news conference, he said "it would be the duty" of the U.N., including the United States, to oppose any such Communist intervention.

The President did not say what form the opposition should take, saying, "it would depend upon the circumstances."

Asked what steps would be taken "beyond simply subscribing to resolutions," the President replied:

"Well, I can't tell you what it would be. But the United Nations, if you will read its charter, is not by any manner of means limited to resolutions, and in one instance, at least, showed that it was not so limited."

Reference To Korea

"So I don't know exactly what we would do. It would depend upon the circumstances."

The "one instance" to which he referred apparently was the U.N. military action against Red aggression in Korea.

The President spoke only a few minutes before Moscow dispatches reported Egypt had formally requested Russia to dispatch "volunteers" to bolster its armed forces. Replying to questions, Eisenhower made these points in commenting on international problems:

1. Russia's military onslaught against Hungary violates "all justice and right in the world." However, he said his administration has never advocated "open rebellion by an undefended populace" against overwhelming military force.

Not Time For Summit Talks

2. This "is simply not the time" for a summit conference with Russia's leaders because the U.N. should be given time to settle the Middle East crisis.

3. Any Western Big Three conference with British and French chiefs of state should also be put off for a while, even though he believes U.S. friendship with these two countries must develop "stronger than ever" once the Middle East crisis ends.

U.S. Seeks Facts In Boat Attack

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP)—The U.S. government was reported disturbed today at use of gunfire by a Mexican patrol boat Monday night against a Texas shrimp boat and the wounding of its captain.

Officially, the State Department said only that "the department is concerned, and anxious to get the full facts" about the incident in the Gulf of Mexico.

It was learned, however, that the United States, on the basis of available information, questions whether use of force was justified in the new outbreak of trouble between Mexican naval craft and U.S. fishing vessels.

A department press officer said the Texas boat, the Pescadora, has been released at Tampico, Mexico, by Mexican authorities and is returning to its home port of Brownsville, Tex.

Capt. Tom Wilson, of the Pescadora, wounded by rifle fire in the fracas, was reported in good condition in a hospital in Tampico.

Baby Shaker Given Long Term In Deaths

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 14 (AP)—A big blonde baby attendant, who said "children sometimes get on my nerves," was sentenced to 10 to 22 years in prison today for the fatal shaking of two of them.

Virginia Jaspers, 33, who stands six feet and weighs 220, pleaded guilty to two counts of manslaughter three weeks ago. She stood impassive as the judge pronounced sentence.

Police said she admitted fatally injuring another one of her charges, but she could not be charged with that because it happened in 1948, too long ago to allow prosecution.

She was charged in the deaths of 11-day-old Abby Kapsinow last August, and two-month-old Jennifer Malkin in 1951. She was arrested after a doctor who knew of the other deaths became suspicious at the third.

Russian Honor Guard Greets Poland's Chief

MOSCOW, Nov. 14 (AP)—Polish Communist chief Wladyslaw Gomulka, jailed under Stalin for "Titoism" was received with honors today when he entered the Soviet Union at Brest.

He will arrive in Moscow tomorrow to discuss future relations between the Soviet Union and Poland.

The Soviet news agency Tass said Gomulka was greeted at Brest by a Soviet honor guard and the town was decorated with Polish and Soviet flags to honor the Polish government delegation.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister N. S. Patolichev was in the party welcoming Gomulka and the other Poles, including Premier Josef Cyrankiewicz, Politburo member Maj. Gen. Alexander Zawadzki, chief economic planner Stefan Jedrychowski, and many political and economic advisers.

It appeared that Soviet leaders, ignoring Warsaw's ouster of former Soviet Marshal Konstantin Rokossovsky as overall boss of the Polish armed forces, will give the new head of the Polish Communist party a full dress reception.

It is expected that Soviet party chief Nikita Khrushchev, if he's in town, will head the Soviet welcoming delegation.

Many Soviet Troops Fought With Rebels

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP)—An escaped leader of the Hungarian revolution testified today that many Russian troops in Hungary "were on the side of the rebels."

He said some even turned guns on their own comrades.

The witness, however, said the Soviets threw fresh and tougher troops into the fighting later who "terrorized" dissidents and compelled them to help crush the revolt.

The testimony came from a young Hungarian refugee, concealing his identity behind a mask of white surgical gauze and an assumed name lest he be recognized and reprisals taken on relatives he left behind.

Ingrid Improving

PARIS, Nov. 14 (AP)—Actress Ingrid Bergman was reported resting comfortably tonight following an appendix operation at the American Hospital.

VIENNA, Nov. 14 (AP)—Russia's puppet government in Budapest admitted today the Soviet army is deporting Hungarians to the east in sealed railway cars in a desperate effort finally to crush the revolution.

This surprising disclosure came from Radio Budapest, which also said Hungarian workers, aroused by news of the deportations, "are leaving their jobs in increasing numbers."

There were reports that the anti-Red rebels tried desperately to halt the train traffic eastward by blowing up tracks, but were mowed down by Soviet fire.

Hungary's economy was crippled by a general strike which received new impetus by defiant Hungarians on Csepel Island near Budapest even as their armed resistance crumbled.

Workers Call For Nagy

Russian tanks and guns smashed the last armed rebel positions on that big island industrial area, but workers refused to return to their jobs and demanded anew that Soviet troops leave the capital.

A dispatch from Budapest said the workers held a mass meeting after putting down their arms. They demanded that the regime of Premier Janos Kadar be thrown out of office and Imre Nagy be restored to the premiership.

Nagy was deposed by Soviet might two weeks ago. He had promised free elections, independence from Moscow, a neutral Hungary and the start of negotiations for withdrawal of all Soviet troops.

From his refuge in the Yugoslav Embassy in Budapest Nagy sent out word that he was avoiding any contact with Kadar, who is seeking Nagy's cooperation in an effort to win some popular support.

Women, Children D. ported Budapest radio told of the deportation of Hungarians in a broadcast explaining why the general strike had not ended.

In Szolnok County southeast of Budapest, the radio said, 40 per cent of the workers had returned to work and some rail traffic had started.

It added: "But according to the latest reports prisoners have been transported to the east in locked railway cars and for that reason the railwaymen started to strike again."

Der Kurier, a Vienna newspaper, said wives and children of rebels were being deported.

Women Workers Rout Organizers

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (AP)—There are 15 chastened males here today who probably never again will underestimate the power of a woman.

The 15 invaded a hand embroidery shop on W. 25th St. in the course of an attempt by the International Ladies Garment Workers Union to organize the premises. They told 22 women workers:

"Everybody stop working. There's a strike on."

Proprietor Michael Cohen remonstrated with the intruders and, for his pains, got a belt in the jaw. This roused the 22 women employees to action.

With brooms, chairs and other improvised weapons the screeching females drove the 15 men out of the second floor shop in a matter of moments. Police got there too late to arrange a cease-fire.

Nasser Asks Russia Send 'Volunteers'

Police Units Begin 1,300-Mile Flight From Italy To Suez

CAPODICHINO STAGING AREA, Italy, Thursday, Nov. 15 (AP)—The first units of the U.N. police army for the Middle East took off here before dawn today for the Suez Canal zone.

The two chartered Swissair planes carrying them to the silent battlefield are expected to land behind Egyptian lines near Ismailia.

The flight from this takeoff point near Naples at the foot of Mt. Vesuvius is about 1,300 miles.

The flight was expected to take 5½ hours.

The lead-off plane roared away at 3:43 a.m. (9:43 p.m. EST Wednesday) with 45 Danish soldiers aboard.

The second followed minutes later with 50 Norwegians.

These 95 soldiers are the vanguard of a police army recruited by the U.N. from among 17 volunteering small nations.

Nasser Reportedly Asks Red 'Volunteers'

LONDON, Nov. 14 (AP)—The chances of Soviet intervention in the Middle East grew today. An Arab diplomatic source in Moscow reported that President Nasser has asked Russia to send "volunteers" to Egypt.

U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld a few hours later ordered the U.N.'s new police army, stalled for two days in Italy, to get its peace mission off the ground. It looked like a race to beat the "volunteers."

The first units of the U. N. force were ordered to leave Italy tomorrow and land at Ismailia in the Suez Canal zone. Hammarskjöld himself arranged to leave tonight for Cairo.

Conflicting Views Egypt has insisted the U. N. force must supervise the immediate withdrawal of the British-French forces from the Suez Canal zone, and the pullback of Israelis.

This was not in accord with British-French views that their third of the canal could not be surrendered to Egypt's President Nasser, nor with Israel's view that she must hold on to the Gaza Strip.

The dispute immobilized Hammarskjöld's mission to Cairo for a full day.

The Arab informant in Moscow said Egyptian Ambassador Mohammed el Kony had been instructed by his government to request the immediate dispatch of Soviet "volunteers" to Egypt. In Russia, and other Communist countries, it is not possible to volunteer for such military service without government encouragement.

The Egyptian Embassy in Moscow had no comment. A spokesman said: "As soon as I am in position to say anything I will."

Soviet Approval Certain

Moscow has made it appear there would not be much doubt that the Soviet government would approve the sending of volunteers once a request was made. Four days ago a Soviet government statement declared the Kremlin would not hinder the departure of volunteer airmen, tank drivers, artillery specialists and others for the Middle East if Israeli, French and British forces delayed getting out of Egypt.

El Kony has reported there at least 50,000 and perhaps as many as 250,000 of these volunteers. Red China has announced the registration of 250,000 of her citizens for military service in Egypt.

Moscow also has reported the holding of rallies to gain aid for Egypt in such Asian countries as Afghanistan. An Indonesian diplomat in Moscow said Tuesday that 65,000 Indonesians had volunteered to help Egypt.

APME Opens 23rd Annual Meeting

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 14 (AP)—The Associated Press Managing Editors Assn. gathered today at the birthplace of American freedom to discuss means of maintaining free access to government information.

The opening session of the four-day 23rd annual APME meeting was held in historic Congress Hall, where the first 10 amendments to the U.S. Constitution—the Bill of Rights—were adopted.

APME President V. M. Newton Jr., of the Tampa, Fla., Tribune, urged an effort to overcome what he described as an attempt by government agencies to withhold details of their "inner workings" from the press.

President Sees Election As 'Mandate' From People

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP)—President Eisenhower sized up the election today as offering "some-what of a mandate" from the people to work "industriously and incessantly" for a program of modern Republicanism.

Yet Eisenhower conceded that an election cleavage which gave him an enormous vote of confidence while keeping Congress in Democratic hands meant that:

"From my viewpoint, the United States has not yet been convinced that modern Republicanism is with us and is going to be the guiding philosophy of the Republican party."

ITCHING

Tormented by itching of dry eczema, simple piles, common skin irritation? Soothing, medicated Resinol Ointment is a proved reliever of such distress. Its ingredients, often used by doctors, act gently to give lingering comfort. Well worth trying.

"I am not one of the desk-pounding type that likes to stick out his jaw and look like he is bossing the show," the President replied. "I would far rather get behind and, recognizing the frailties and the requirements of human nature, I would rather try to persuade a man to go along, because once I have persuaded him he will stick."

"If I scare him, he will stay just as long as he is scared, and then he is gone."

Clothing Taken By Slain Woman Is Found Buried

RIVERDALE, Md., Nov. 14 (AP)—Police investigating the murder of Edith W. Whitley said today they found a suit and topcoat belonging to her husband hidden under a tarpaulin in the front yard of the Whitley home.

Detective Sgt. James P. Kearns of Prince Georges County police said Whitley told him her wife took the clothing with her when she disappeared from her home. Whitley said she left early Sunday morning, Kearns reported.

Mrs. Whitley's beaten and strangled body was found at 3:30 p.m. Sunday on a road near Richmond, Va. The body, lying face down in a ditch, was clothed only in a black slip, a black sweater and stockings.

Dr. Geoffrey T. Mann, Virginia chief medical examiner, said death apparently occurred 12 to 36 hours before the body was placed in the ditch. In addition to strangling, Mrs. Whitley suffered a very severe blow which fractured the skull near its base, Dr. Mann said.

Kearns said a pair of Whitley's shoes which Whitley said his wife also took has not been recovered.

Elizabeth Taylor Sues For Divorce

SANTA MONICA, Calif., Nov. 14 (AP)—Film star Elizabeth Taylor today sued for divorce from British actor Michael Wilding, charging mental cruelty.

The actress asked Superior Court for custody of their two children, Michael Howard, 3½, and Christopher Edward, 1½.

She waived alimony but a property settlement dated last July 27 will give her a large, undisclosed amount. She asked $250 a month from Wilding, however, for support of the children.

Miss Taylor, 24, and Wilding, 44, were married in London Feb. 21, 1952. They separated last July 23.

This was the second marriage for each.

"I may never work again," Miss Taylor said in New York as she left by plane for Miami with producer Mike Todd.

Todd said he did not know when he planned to marry her. "She hasn't asked me yet," he said.

Man Killed In Crash With Brother's Car

KENNETT, Mo., Nov. 14 (AP)—R. A. Bowling, 50, died in a hospital here today of injuries suffered in a head-on auto collision with a car driven by his brother.

Police said Bowling, of Kennett, was a passenger in a taxicab driven by Clifford Davis, 33, which swerved to avoid a car parked on the highway without lights last night.

The taxi and an approaching car driven by Altus Bowling, 47-year old brother of the victim, collided. Altus Bowling and Davis both were injured.

Former Convict Finds Life Too Fast, Returns To Penitentiary

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore., Nov. 14 (AP)—Life outside was just too fast, so Miguel Marrero, after five years of freedom, is returning to the Oregon State Penitentiary.

Marrero, 55, was paroled after serving 21 years for a 1931 slaying. He was unhappy, though, and finally told Sheriff Murray Britton he wanted to return to prison.

Before leaving here for the prison today, Marrero explained: "but I crossed the line into California which makes me a parole violator."

Marrero, who came to the United States from Puerto Rico when he was 15, confessed a parole violation to the sheriff. "I have gone straight," he said.

Champion Steer Brings Record $5.10 A Pound

TIMONIUM, Md., Nov. 14 (P)—The grand champion steer of the Eastern National Livestock Show, descended from livestock aristocracy, proved today that "blood will tell" in the auction ring as well as the show ring.

The Aberdeen-Angus steer, which won the championship cup for Pennsylvania State University yesterday, was sold at auction for $5.10 a pound, a new record for the Eastern National.

Weighed moments later, the animal tipped the scales at 1,165 pounds, making it worth $5,941.50. It was purchased by Arbogast and Bastian of Allentown, Pa., for the Village Inn of Allentown.

The previous record of $5 a pound was paid in 1953. Last year's price was $1.98.

The grand champion was sired by Eileenmere 1032, one-time grand champion bull of the International Livestock Show. Its dam was sired by Eileenmere 999-33, twice grand champion bull at the International.

Penn State also showed the reserve grand champion here, but elected to take the animal on to the International later this month in Chicago. Under Eastern National rules it was obligated to sell the grand champion.

Joe Walker of Norfolk, Va., whose Hereford steer was chosen grand champion of the 4-H and Future Farmer of America competition, received $2.01 a pound for the 1,050-pound animal.

The reserve 4-H and FFA champion, an Aberdeen-Angus exhibited by 18-year-old Ernie Frey of Quarryville, Pa., brought 50 cents a pound. It weighed 1,045. Both animals were purchased by the William Schlumberger-T. J. Kurdie Co. of Baltimore.

Youth On Trial In Murder Case

BALTIMORE, Nov. 14 (P)—Joseph Thomas Tromberi, 15, went on trial for his life today charged with murdering the father of his girl friend, Diane Burgess.

He is charged with first degree murder in the slaying of Leonard H. Burgess, who was shot to death as he returned home from his night-shift job last Sept. 29.

In opening arguments in Youth Court before Judge James K. Cullen, the prosecution said that within a few hours after his arrest on the morning after the slaying, young Tromberi signed a statement saying, "I shot him."

The State, asking a first-degree murder conviction, stressed that the killing was premeditated because, it said, the youth lay in wait for the victim.

It quoted this as being from Trimeri's statement:

"I was behind the bushes to the right as you come out of Diane's house. I couldn't get him in range right from the bushes, so I jumped out to the cement and I shot about four times. He moaned and staggered up on the porch and then I ran up to the porch and kept shooting until the gun was empty."

Maryland Couple Die In Auto Crash

WHITE, Ga., Nov. 14 (P)—A Maryland couple was killed in a head-on auto collision near here yesterday.

The State Patrol said Edward Armstrong, 61, and Laura Armstrong, 56, of (305 Blueford Rd.) Kensington, Md., were victims of the accident on U. S. 411, 6.3 miles north of here in Bartow County.

The patrol said the man was driving.

Record Budget

BALTIMORE, Nov. 14 (P)—Baltimore's proposed budget for 1957 is a record-breaking $206,869,952. This would call for a 20-cent hike in the property tax rate, to $3.33 for every $100 of assessed value.

Confused Finnish Student Learns Lesson Hard Way

BALTIMORE, Nov. 14 (P)—A confused Finn learned the hard way today you can't believe everything someone tells you—especially in a bar.

Here is the story unwound in Magistrate's Court:

Olaf B. Damsten, 29, who says he is from Helsinki, Finland, and attending school in New York, became involved in an argument in an East Baltimore tavern after midnight. The words got hotter, and Damsten wanted a policeman to settle it.

"Where can you get a policeman around here?" he said he asked.

"Just go to the corner and pull to lever in the box there," he said he was told.

Olaf left. Within minutes fire engines rushed up.

Olaf was waiting.

"Where's the fire?" asked the battalion chief.

"What fire?" replied Olaf. "I want a policeman."

Olaf got a policeman. The patrolman arrested him for turning in a false fire alarm.

Hungary Revolt Not Dead, McKeldin Says

LAUREL, Md., Nov. 14 (P)—Gov. McKeldin said today that the Hungarian rebellion may be crushed, "but it will not die—it will rise again in this generation or the next."

"The Communist planners depended upon holding in subjugation one generation, and rearing the next one in the image of the state—a generation without knowledge of freedom, and, therefore, without the yearning for freedom," he said.

McKeldin made his remarks in a speech prepared for delivery at the opening of a $2 million shopping center here.

Harford Co. Integration Plan Defended

BALTIMORE, Nov. 14 (P)—A Harford County School official said today he believes the county has made a "reasonable start" toward desegregation of county schools.

A suit filed in behalf of four Negro school children charged the county has refused to desegregate above the third grade.

Attorneys for the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People are representing the plaintiffs in their suit for a federal injunction.

Charles W. Willis, county superintendent of education, testified the county Board of Education has no intention of failing to comply with orders of the U.S. Supreme

School Age Population Increases By 8,167,000 In Six Years

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP)—The number of school age children leaped upward by 8,167,000 in the last six years, the Census Bureau said today.

Officials said this emphasized the need for more school rooms now and more jobs in the future to take care of a rising population.

The Census Bureau reported there were 38,756,000 children of elementary and high school age last July 1. This was about 23 per cent of the population. The total compared with 30,589,000 or about

The census report disclosed that the number of persons 18 through 64—the principal working ages—rose by four million from 1950 to 1956 to 96,200,000. About 80 per cent of the increase was among those 45 or older. The increase was slight in the under-45 group. Records showed this increase of of employed persons during the six year span. Employment rose from about 60 million in 1950 to a little more than 66 million in the latest jobholders report.

Although the working age group rose by more than four million, it made up only 57 per cent of the population last summer against 61 per cent in 1950. This was because of sharp increases in both young-

The company says Japan may have to go back to its old way of building. It reports the stream-lined U. S. style building cracks, swells, bulges and rusts in Japan's wet climate.

On The Line

By BOB CONSIDINE

The invasion of Egypt caught, among other Americans there, six families of Transworld Airlines employees assigned to the company's Cairo headquarters. Getting them safely out of the danger zone was the ticklish job of Gordon Gilmore, TWA's vice president in charge of advertising and public relations.

The last man out, Emmett Riordan, press relations chief for that stretch of the company's routes, cabled Gilmore from Rome. All the cable said was, "Reference Exodus 16:6."

Gilmore, whipping out his hand vest-pocket Old Testament, read: "Then ye shall know that the Lord hath brought you out from the land of Egypt."

The ailing John Foster Dulles is the 52nd secretary of state since the department was established by an act of Congress on July 27, 1789.

Six of his predecessors—Jefferson, Madison, Monroe, John Quincy Adams, Van Buren and Buchanan—attained the presidency. Seven others missed by a whisker or more: Clay, Webster, Calhoun, Seward, Blaine, Bryan and Hughes. James Gillespie Blaine served twice, under Garfield and Benjamin Harrison. He was followed by Dulles' grandfather, John W. Foster, who served only a year but left an influence which has never faded.

The Old Farmer's Almanac is out, by cracky. Its golden-rod cover, suggesting a land of rutted roads and wood stoves, still bears the likeness of Robert B. Thomas, its great editor, who went wherever editors go just 110 years ago.

Mr. Thomas might have trouble if he returned and was asked to read copy on this item:

"From July, 1957, through December, 1958, the scientists of 40 nations, including the Soviet Union, will conduct the most comprehensive study ever undertaken upon the earth. Fields to be explored include meteorology, latitude and longitude, geomagnetism, gravity, solar activity, cosmic rays, oceanography and rocket study."

"One of America's contributions will be the $20,000,000 Project Vanguard. This consists in the launching of ten or twelve 21-inch diameter 100-pound satellites for an individual existence of a few hours in an orbit approximately 300 miles from the earth."

He'd find the jokes familiar, however. And the poetry:

(The reply of a farmer to the question how many kernels he put in a hill.)

One for the black-bird
One for the crow,
One for the cut-worm
Any two to grow.

The world stands with head bared as the last Hungarian patriots fall in that battered nation's courageous war against the Soviet Union. The survivors of rebellion win acclaim as they emerge from behind the Curtain. Of them, and the dead, we might say, as Daniel Webster said to Hungarian patriot Louis Kossuth 105 years ago, "We shall rejoice to see our American model upon the lower Danube and on the mountains of Hungary... I limit my aspirations for Hungary to that single and simple point: Hungarian independence, Hungarian self-government, Hungarian control of Hungarian destinies."

(Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.)

Mrs. Gerson, Hugo Keller Top Field

Mrs. Milton Gerson and Hugo Keller won the special National Master versus Non-Master Championship game of the Potomac Valley Bridge Club.

The party was in celebration of the International Race at Laurel race course, and was held at the Sheraton-Park Hotel, Washington. Decorations consisted of prancing golden horses throughout the ballroom, festooned with pink and red tulle. On each table was a centerpiece of a horse's head filled with pink and red roses.

Mrs. Brown attended with Maj. and Mrs. Henry Cunningham, Mr. and Mrs. H. Gabriel Murphy, Peter Sutphen, Mrs. Harry Moses, Thomas LaZear and Mrs. L. E. Hallmann.

Israel-Arab Problem To Be Society AAUW Discussion Topic

"Israel and the Arab Problem" will be the topic of discussion at the meeting of the International Relations Study Group of Frostburg-Georges Creek AAUW held at the home of Miss Kathleen Wolfe, 49 Broadway.

Dr. Hazel G. Ramsay, chairman, will lead the discussion in which members and visitors will participate. Special guests will be Mrs. William H. Blake, chairman of the Cumberland Branch International Relations Group, members of her group, and Mr. Blake.

Israel's grievance against Egypt for stoppage of some of her ships of use of the Suez was discussed at the October round table on Suez at the college, when this month's topic was introduced. The original problem of Israel's strained relations with her border states regarding especially Arab refugees and the disputed Gaza strip, as recognized in the group planning session in the fall, has been widened to include attention at Saturday's meeting.

The recent invasion by Israel in Egypt-held Sinai, the complication of hostilities by armed intervention into the Middle East by British and French attacks, the heavy opposition by many of their own nationals at home as well as from neighboring nations, and activities of the UN regarding both their actions and the cease-fire and UN international police force will be discussed.

A report will be made regarding an outside speaker for the dinner meeting February 5. Dr. Ramsay said last night it may be possible to have a speaker from the State Department.

Publications from the State Department to be shown include ones on Suez, China and the United States policy, how public opinion counts, and how foreign policy is made. "Freedom's New Task of Waging Peace," new prospectus of the UN after 10 years, and the UN in US foreign policy.

Hostesses include Miss Helen Hough, Miss Datha Thomas, and Miss Bernice Winner. The usual brief personal chat will be held at 7:15 with the discussion beginning at 7:30.

Meeting Changed

Due to the fact that Thanksgiving falls on the regular meeting date of the Cumberland Chapter 914 Women of the Moose, the meeting will be held November 29 at 8 p. m.

Two candidates were initiated at the first meeting of the month. They were Mrs. Sophia Harcelrode and Mrs. Irene Spinita.

Following the meeting at the Moose Home, nine members went to Frostburg to celebrate the 20th anniversary of the Frostburg Women of the Moose. Refreshments concluded the evening.

Social Chart

Philathea Bible Class of Centre Street Church will meet at 7:45 tonight in the parlor.

Great Books Group Reads Psalms

The consensus of members of the Great Books Group of the Cumberland Branch AAUW, in discussing the Book of Psalms, was that the appeal of the Psalms lies in the beauty of expression and emphasis on monotheism.

Different members read the Psalms which appealed to them from the standpoint of poetic expression. It was remarked upon the wonder of the world sustained by God; and remarked upon the bold unembarrassed faith of the psalmist. The group came to the conclusion that this is great religious literature because the Psalms reach the highest of man's spirit, but also live with him every day.

The meeting was held Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Milton Beneman, Luteman Road. Mrs. A. J. Mirkin presided. Mrs. Ralph Webster and Mrs. G. Morgan Smith led the discussion.

Others attending were Mrs. John Cupler, Mrs. Milton Granel, Mrs. Howard Tolson, Mrs. Howard Briggs, Mrs. Amer Suter, Miss Dorothy Stone White, Mrs. Alice Frailey, Mrs. William Durland, Mrs. John Hafer, Mrs. Max Bastian, Mrs. Paul Castelle, Mrs. Royce Hodges, Mrs. George Griffith, Mrs. Albert Eskin, Mrs. Granville Shirley, Mrs. Gordon Bowie, Miss Dorothy Harlow, Miss Pauline Hobbs, and Miss Irene Kirkeby.

Society Makes 4 Donations

Flintstone Women's Society of Christian Service made four donations and planned to send a Christmas box to Baltimore to a Children's home, at the meeting at the church.

Mrs. B. C. Robinette conducted the business session, at which $5 was given to the Scholarship fund, $5 to the Sibley Hospital, $38.80 paid to the Women's Division and Cultivation fund, and $11.50 to the Thompson Bible Class. It was reported a profit of $5.20 was made with the sale of brooms; and $129.66 on apple butter.

Mrs. Nina Bender "as in charge of devotions, using as her theme, "The United Nations a Good Trustee." The group sang "Dear Lord and Father of Mankind," and "O Could I Speak the Matchless Worth." The United Nations and Headquarters were explained by Mrs. Bender, Mrs. R. T. Gilson, Miss Lena Twigg and Miss Ruth Perrin. Prayer was offered by Mrs. Bender, and Mrs. Eleanor Shriver. The Lord's Prayer was said in unison. Twenty-one members attended.

SRC To Open Bids Dec. 4

The State Roads Commission will open bids on Tuesday, December 4, for new Route 36 from its intersection with Route 40 through Corriganville.

Robert O. Bonnell, SRC chairman, said the project will call for the grading, drainage relocation and surfacing of the Mt. Savage Road a distance of 2.956 miles.

The bids will also cover work on 237 of a mile on Route 40 between the new intersection of Route 36 and the present intersection of Route 36.

The S. T. Brotemarkle Construction Company of this city is in the process of building a new intersection of Route 36 and 40 at the west end of the Narrows, at a point just east of the Western Maryland Railway bridge.

The relocated Route 36 will run to the east of the railway, eliminating the low viaduct at Home-wood Addition.

The project will go through Corriganville running to the rear of the present properties located on the west side of the highway.

Brotemarkle is also constructing a new bridge across Jennings Run in Corriganville. The new road there will run along the old C&P Railroad.

Men Of LaSalle Plan Pep Meeting, Dance

Plans for two holiday activities will be completed at a meeting of the Men of LaSalle today at 8 p. m. at Carroll Hall.

The opening activities will be a bonfire, scheduled for the evening of Thanksgiving Eve at Sticher Field, which will be held in the form of a pep meeting for the annual Beall-LaSalle High School football game on the following day. Thomas Struntz, chairman, said the organization has secured a fire permit and also permission for use of the field from the City Recreation Department.

The organization will also hold a dance Thanksgiving night at the Knights of Columbus home, with Struntz also as chairman in charge.

Also to be presented at the meeting is a financial report of the minstrel recently presented under sponsorship of the Men of LaSalle, according to John J. Long, president, who will preside.

Miller Sentencing Set For Saturday

Chief Judge George Henderson will sentence Henry F. Miller, who was convicted October 16 on a charge of receiving stolen property, Saturday at 9:15 a. m.

Miller, who operates a junkyard in South Cumberland in connection with a brother, Herbert H. Miller, was convicted on one of three charges by an Allegany County Circuit Court jury. The three charges resulted from the theft of lead from the construction company which is building the city sewage treatment plant.

The brother, Herbert H. Miller, had been indicted on two of the three counts but was acquitted by the same jury which found Henry F. Miller guilty of receiving 1,200 pounds of lead stolen May 3 from the Moyer Brothers firm. The lead was valued at $324.

BEAUTYREST LASTS LONGER. Torture tests by U.S. Testing Co. prove Beautyrest can take it. Beautyrest lasted twice as long as any mattress tested—took 740,744 more poundings!

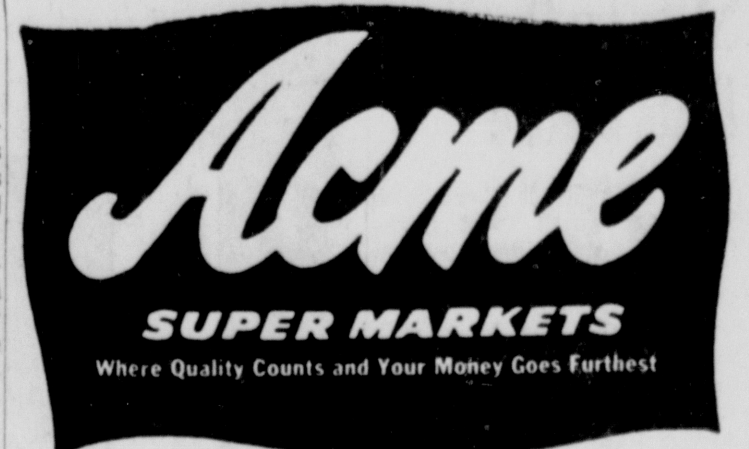

A. Slant of black tape on spine of figure on ordinary mattress betrays that wired-together springs sag down together. Result: distorted body, improper rest.

B. BEAUTYREST IS POSTURE-RIGHT. Straight line of black tape on spine of figure on Beautyrest shows that each coil adjusts to weight above it. Result: perfect support, correct alignment of organs, healthful sleep.

Teenage beauty care counts the rest of her life. Start her off right.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Habit Forming For Beauty —

Here's How To Help The Teenager

When your teen-age daughter suddenly discovers that the boy next door can cut capers on a dance floor as well as in the back yard—there's your chance. She'll listen now to your beauty advice. She'll accept your help in establishing good beauty habits for the rest of her life.

She's ready to take over responsibility herself, so it's up to you to make sure nothing is missed. Fastidious habits of cleanliness come first—now's the time to make a natural routine of proper facial cleansing, bathing, shampooing, the care of her hands.

Show the young lady how much beauty there is in keeping her complexion perfectly clean. Before she's taught to use cosmetics, she should know how to wash her face correctly, how to work a soapy lather into her skin with her fingers or a soft complexion brush with gentle rotating motions, then to rinse off every trace of soap by splashing on water caught in her cupped hands before patting her face dry. Encourage soap and water cleansing twice a day if her skin is normal, to use cream cleansers often, and to remove cosmetics entirely before applying new or going to bed.

Daily bathing now will become a beauty treatment to her, and one which is more beneficial when you give her a long-handled brush for her back and a loofah sponge to stimulate circulation. Let her choose her own soap, but make sure it's one that lathers best in the water of your locality, not merely the prettiest bar in her favorite fragrance.

She's used to weekly scheduled shampooing, but encourage her especially now to keep her hair clean between shampoos with proper brushing, head down, the time-honored 100 daily strokes, and to keep her brush and comb scrupulously clean.

She'll be very aware of her hands and must see that perfect cleanliness counts long before manicures. Teen-age activities often make hand care a real problem — help all you can by giving her a good nail brush of her own, and if necessary, a grainy soap to remove extra grime.

Tomorrow — Quiet diet. HOW MUCH SHOULD YOU WEIGH? A new, lightning calculator that tells you how to compute your own individual ideal weight. Write to Secrets of Charm in care of this newspaper, enclosing 10¢ (in coin) and a self-addressed, stamped envelope. Ask for "How Much Should You Weigh?" Copyright 1956, John F. Dille Co.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (AP)—The stock market staged a nervous decline today as tension over the Middle East pervaded Wall Street. Leading issues took losses of from fractions to 2 points or more. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined $1.20 to $178.80 with the industry down $2.60, the rails down 40 cents and the utilities unchanged. The fall in the AP average represented an estimated drop of $1,400,000,000 in the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange.

City Workers Are Prepared To Walk Out

Calvin W. Shipes, president of Local 812, Municipal Employees Union, said last night "everything is set and arranged" for walk out by the city employees in the event their request for a pay boost are not fulfilled.

"We have another meeting Monday with the Mayor and City Council in City Hall," Mr. Shipes said, "and our next move depends on what develops there." Earlier yesterday Shipes said the union would continue to seek a paid medical and hospital plan, plus payment by the city of the difference between workmen's compensation for injury and a man's regular pay for a period of one year.

Mr. Shipes stated that the 97 union members, employees of the street, water and park departments had completed their strike vote and had authorized a strike call if negotiations fail.

Monday in discussions with the Mayor and City Council it was indicated by the council that the union's request for a 25-cent pay boost could not be met at this time. And while no definite decision was given on the other requests, the council promised an answer at next Monday's meeting.

Sources of money for payment of the requests is the major stumbling block, Mayor Roy W. Eves said, after talking with each of his department heads.

GOP Can Gain On School Board

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Nov. 14 (AP)—Unless Gov. William C. Marland and the Democratic-controlled Senate act quickly in the 1957 Legislature, the Republicans can gain a majority role on the State Board of Education early next year.

The Board has 10 members, including the state school superintendent in an ex-officio role and without a vote. The new school head also will be a Republican, R. Virgil Rohrbough of Grafton.

The other nine members are named by the governor, with Senate confirmation, for overlapping nine-year terms. No more than five may belong to the same political party, and the board now has five Democrats.

But here is how the new GOP administration of Gov. Cecil Underwood, can alter the situation shortly after it takes office next Jan. 14, a discussion with Atty. Gen. John G. Fox indicated today.

One of the current Board members is Dr. Samuel J. Baskerville, a Charleston dentist and a Democrat appointed by Marland as of Oct. 1 to fill a vacancy caused by a resignation.

He was named to an unexpired term to run through June 30, 1962, but could be appointed by Marland to serve only until the next meeting of the Senate, under provisions of a 1954 Supreme Court opinion.

Once appointed and confirmed, Board members are removable only for cause. That is where the Democratic edge on the board could be frozen, at least for six months or so.

Should Marland send up Dr. Baskerville's name, or that of another Democrat, when the new Legislature convenes, and should the Senate immediately confirm the appointment, the choice could not be disturbed, under existing laws.

Arbitration Hearing Is Scheduled Today

An arbitration hearing concerning a grievance between Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America, and the Celanese Corporation of America has been scheduled for today at the Allegany County Court House.

The grievance concerns a two-day suspension given 10 employees in the Extrusion Section at Amelle. Samuel H. Jaffee of Washington, D. C., will serve as arbitrator. Local 1874 will be represented by William Davis, attorney, and the counsel for Celanese will be William H. Geppert.

More To Be Noted On U. S. Election

The tumult and the shouting have died, but there's more to be observed.

How many Americans get around to discussing politics during a presidential campaign? A Pennsylvania firm of business analysts claims that an extensive check throughout the 1956 vote drive showed 72,994,000 Americans old enough to vote were talking politics on election day eve. This was pictured as a last-minute upsurge from the 51,887,000 who were discussing the campaign on October 13. And possibly it is cricket to note that more women than men were giving their attention to politics, according to the survey.

How seriously we take our politics might be more accurately gauged by outsiders. Among a group of Latin-American journalists and Japanese radio officials observing the American campaign one Chilean editor found the American voter a "separate island" who, he said, seemed to be "operating, thinking, and acting individually."

He appeared to be a bit nostalgic about the absence of the excess imagination, the revolutionary spirit, and the violent discussion of his own countrymen. A Japanese radio official sensed a growing feeling of national excitement such as was indicated in the analysts' survey, especially since she felt the political interest reached a climax the day before election.

These are the visitors' views taken before we voted. We would be equally interested to have the same observers—and those Russians who are here for the same purpose—continue their studies of the American political scene after election to see how we close ranks and accept the will of the majority.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky
He Walked Alone

The genius of Cecil B. deMille produced the panorama "The Ten Commandments," which those who enjoy motion pictures will revel in. But there is much more to this picture than great stars and amazing photography. Principally this is a work of dedication to the cause of human freedom.

And beyond the artificialities of the cinema, designed to enliven the interest and produce good theater, is the philosophic approach of a man who himself has fought a one-man battle for truth and freedom. For let it not be forgotten that it was Cecil B. deMille, person of position and wealth, who was forced out of radio because he would not contribute one dollar to a cause which he believed to be a limitation upon his freedom of thought and action.

Liberty is only as precious as one is willing to make sacrifices for it. Liberty has not been come by easily; it can be lost in the twinkling of an eye. Moses, the prince of Egypt, sacrifices himself and becomes a slave with the object of becoming free. This is not a paradox; it is the whole of human history, for to receive, we must give. To enjoy the benefits of freedom, one must win his freedom and the cost can be in human blood, as it is today in Hungary.

The Natural Law, the law of life revealed to man by God, came to our civilization through Moses. This law of life has been summarized in the Ten Commandments upon which is based our civilization. Beyond the Ten Commandments is savagery. It is not a question of sect or religious creed. It is not a question of affiliation. It is a question of an unchangeable guide as to right and wrong. It serves not only as a guide and a measure but as a limitation, an inhibition upon the lusts of man who, created in the image of God, nevertheless possesses the quality of free will to do good and to do evil.

In the portrayal of this, Cecil B. deMille permits his genius free flow, for there is the contrast of the wild bacchanalia before the Golden Calf, the roar of licentiousness, the cult of in, the full rein to total abasement and the man who bears the Natural Law, walking alone, always alone, struggling with himself, his own human instincts, even to express himself in disgust and in anger, but always limited by the rules of moral living which forbid man setting himself up as a god and demanding for himself worship and obedience.

I have read many reviews of this picture, "The Ten Commandments," and they mostly speak of the marvels of photography. Of this I am no judge. I assume that photographers know how to take pictures and that actors can be directed to act. But what seemed to me very important was that for many who believe that they know and understand the Bible, this may be their first opportunity to see one of the greatest personalities in the Bible as a human being with all the frailties and strength of a human being.

When one has lived three hours with Cecil B. deMille's Moses, he will know the man, Moses, know him from birth to death, know him as he passes from prince to slave to leader of men to one of the greatest moral teachers in human history. And he will love Moses as Moses loved all men.

Even more, he will understand his own times better, for what is so troublesome in our times is that a large part of the human race has reverted to slavery and another part of the human race has reverted to licentiousness and the free are frightened. And those who labor for liberty and for the moral law walk alone as Moses walked through the Sinai Desert alone, struggling against sand and rock and wind but knowing always that sooner or later, if he lived, he would find the Shepherd and he would not want. It has been an endless travail for the human race to rise out of the mud pits—only some have risen.

Cecil B. deMille is of the theater and his picture will be sold to the public as entertainment. But he is also a prophet and his picture will be remembered as a contribution to righteous living and to justice and liberty.

All Quiet On The Blue Danube

Military Force Overcoming World Moral Force

By Joseph and Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON—The world is faced again with the unsolved question that has plagued civilization for centuries—how to maintain international order and prevent war when there are reckless and irresponsible men at the head of autocratic governments indifferent to all moral suasion.

The drift once more is toward the exercise of military force even as the peoples of the world cry out for some moral force to make governments behave.

Won't Solve Crisis

The crisis of the hour is not going to be solved by a United Nations police force. The very idea back of it implies that there is somewhere a military power big enough to make Soviet Russia's volunteers and Egypt's guerrillas, on the one hand, or the British and French and Israeli armies, on the other hand, withdraw in favor of a neutral police and refrain from further conflict. The truth is that the United Nations is only as strong as public opinion in all countries can make it. And before public opinion can be mobilized, there has to be a fair and comprehensive exposition of the facts for all to read and judge.

Thus, the Soviet government has just brazenly announced that it will send "volunteers" to Egypt to fight. In fact, it has already sent aviators and technicians to Egypt. This is intervention by force under the full authorization of the Moscow government. The United Nations should be denouncing that action day in and day out and should be reminding the world of a precedent—the Communist "volunteers" who resisted the U. N. forces in Korea from 1950 to 1953 and inflicted casualties of tens of thousands.

What is even more important now is an expose of the facts of the Soviet involvement in the last several months in arming the Egyptians against the Israelis.

The U. N. cannot get much sympathy throughout the world if it does not focus on the situation produced by the Soviets and confines itself only to criticism of the measures of defense taken by Britain and France against Egypt for the illegal seizure of the Suez Canal.

World Should Be Informed

The world ought to be informed of just what did happen prior to the British and French decision to use military force in reprisal against Nasser's violation of the Treaty of 1888. Likewise, the United States government should open its intelligence files and disclose the intrigue engaged in by Nasser with Moscow even as he was negotiating for American funds to help him build the Aswan Dam. The break-off of those negotiations, which has been criticized as "abrupt" by uninformed critics, was directly due to the discovery of deceit and treachery in Cairo. The presence now of many millions of dollars worth of Soviet arms in Egypt—some of it captured by Israel—is confirmation of what was discovered when Nasser was trying to play a double game with America.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Never could figure on my one-button abacus how the atom bluster got to be a campaign issue. Why didn't somebody object to bouncing radar off the moon? *

For no reason woven into the selva the doom bubble makes proxies out of the Yucca Flat wax dummies. The Post Office Department promised 'em a first class cancellation.

Usually a candidate is deepening harbors, widening traffic jams, vacuum-packing dinner pails, promising more parking space in front of poor-houses, pointing with arrogance or squinting with consternation. But this campaign the old issues went overboard with the galley grease.

Dropping the H-bomb on the census was the next worst crime to slapping Elvis Presley in the face with a wet banjo. Every night in October we fell asleep counting sheep with wool blackened by fission fall-out.

Nobody knows who heaved the jodhpurs in Madame La Murphette's tomato madrilene. And nobody knows whether the H-bomb is Republican or Democratic.

If we have to mothball anything let's camphorize the muzzle-loading politicians. I'm looking for the fellow who said politics stops at the water's edge. His headquarters was a dry duck pond.

Well, that's those. The election is forming scar tissue on egotistical equivocation. We didn't scrap the atomized bopstras which will be useful in case of a tie.

Hang on to the formula. It's the hole card that wins stud poker pots.

On Easing Pain, Stiffness Of Arthritic Joints

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

There is nothing particularly new in the treatment of osteoarthritis, the type of joint involvement that affects older persons. But this does not mean the disease is incurable or that nothing can be done to relieve pain and stiffness of knees, hips, and spine.

Many victims have discovered they can avoid distress by not standing or kneeling for prolonged periods. They walk up and down stairs only when necessary and avoid heavy work and long walks. But exercise is not taboo.

Since the weight-bearing joints are involved in this type of arthritis, the muscles of the lower extremities, thighs, and hips should be given a workout in a sitting or lying position. The ordinary bicycle routine, done while lying on the back, is an example. Exercises of this type are important in keeping the muscles in good tone and preventing the bones from softening or disintegrating.

The obese arthritic feels better when he reduces to normal weight. Relief also is obtained by supporting the affected joints with a corset, an elastic bandage, or a brace. Crutches or a cane will take the weight off a painful hip.

There are several remedies for pain. The common analgesics such as aspirin and phenacetin are adequate for mild distress. Phenylbutazone and the hormones such as prednisone, hydrocortisone, and cortisone are not as effective as in other types of arthritis but are worth using when distress is severe.

The majority of sufferers obtain more relief from heat than from any other plan. Heat is heat, whether it comes from lamp, baking oven, hot baths, hot towels, electric pad, diathermy, or ultrasonic machine.

Massage and stretching also help. The latter is most beneficial when the spine is involved, because it tends to bring the vertebrae into line. This eases pressure on the nerves, improving posture distributes the weight of the body more equally on knees and hips.

Many victims of spinal arthritis are more comfortable when sleeping on a hard bed. Bed rest must not be overlooked when joint pain is excessive. This regimen usually is combined with the other measures mentioned: exercise and heat.

Premier Ben-Gurion Faced Hard Decision To Quit Sinai Peninsula

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—If you've ever talked to Premier David Ben-Gurion you can understand how difficult it was for him to pledge the evacuation of the Sinai Peninsula over which the tribes of Israel marched when Moses led them out of Egypt 4,000 years ago back to the promised land.

I talked to Ben-Gurion a little over a month ago in land almost as ragged and desolate as the Sinai Peninsula. He was wearing Khaki shorts and looked like his pictures. His unruly hair flared up, unbrushed on both sides of his head like mine would if I didn't apply hair goo. We sat in a little fabricated hut at Ste Boker halfway between the Dead Sea and Beersheeba.

It was barren, uninviting country, and I asked him why he lived there.

"Some years ago I was taking a trip to Eilat," he said, "and stopped here on my way back. Some young people had studied history and decided that if civilization could flourish here 2,000 years ago it would exist here now. So they chose this place to make it flourish. I decided that what they could do I could do, and that this would be my home. Some of the young people have left, but whenever I can get away from Jerusalem I come down here to be on the land."

"Do you work on the land?" "Not as much as I used to. My job used to be to shear sheep."

"By hand?" I asked, thinking of our electric clippers at home.

"Yes, by hand."

"Don't your hands get tired?" I knew he was 70, and I also knew a little about sheep shearing.

"No," replied the prime minister of Israel.

Land Is Cherished

We talked further about the land. He had a passion for land, and at first I did not understand why. As one who lives in a country where no one would dream of trying to cultivate the deserts of New Mexico and Arizona, it was hard for me to realize why the Negev Desert where Ben-Gurion lived should be cherished as if it were the Garden of Eden.

"When the first wave of migration came to Palestine prior to the 1900s," Ben-Gurion explained, "there were many wealthy Jews who purchased land but did not work it. They hired Arabs to work it. That did not build a Jewish homeland. It sent no roots into the soil."

"Later, when I and other students came here from Russia in 1906 — just 50 years ago this fall — we decided to work the land, work it with our hands. Arab labor was cheap. We had to compete with it for six piastres a day — about 50 cents. But we persisted. And that generation learned that the Jews must get back to the land."

"Back in the Middle Ages, Jews were forbidden by law to own land. They were forced to live in the cities and could practice only certain trades, that was why they took up merchandising and banking. So it was not easy for us to get back to the land and work with our hands. Nevertheless we have done it."

"Some years ago Baron Hirsch gave the Jews a tremendous tract of land in Argentina and tried to start a settlement. But it didn't work. The Jews drifted back to the cities. Land in Argentina was rich and fertile, far better than this barren soil. But it was not their land. There were no binding ties with Argentina."

"But in Israel," concluded the prime minister, "the Jew feels that this is his land. This is our history, our homeland. We have roots, a stake in this land, no matter how rocky. That is why I live at Ste Boker and that is what I consider the greatest achievement of Israel — getting our people back to the land."

As Ben-Gurion spoke to the people of Israel by radio the other night, telling them that he was bowing to President Eisenhower's request and returning the Sinai Peninsula, I could understand the reluctance, the sorrow in his voice.

No matter how barren and arid, Sinai was part of the land of his forefathers.

Nasser And Ben-Gurion

I spent a fascinating half day with Ben-Gurion at Ste Boker. Patiently he sat before the television cameras for an hour and a half, and while they were adjusting films and lights we talked of many things. One of them was Colonel Nasser and American appeasement of Nasser. He blamed this partly on the former American ambassador, Colonel Henry Byroade.

"Colonel Byroade," he said, "was a West Pointer — a military man who trusted other military men. Nasser was smart enough to tell him: 'I am talking to you as one military man to another.' Byroade could not understand a lie. It reminded me of a luncheon I had with Sir Neville Chamberlain in London just before the Abyssinian War. The question of Mussolini's possible invasion of Abyssinia came up, and Chamberlain said Mussolini would not invade."

"He has given me his word that he will not invade," Chamberlain said, "and I take his word as a gentleman."

"I couldn't help but wonder," observed the prime minister of Israel, "what was going to happen to Britain with a man like that as prime minister. Some of the people who have trusted Nasser are the same way. They have taken his word as a gentleman. They won't believe that Nasser lies."

The walls of Ben-Gurion's study were lined with books on Chinese and Greek philosophy. He reads ancient Greek as well as he does English or Hebrew.

"After two years of reading Chinese philosophy," he said, "I have given it up. There is nothing new in it. It is all taken from the Greek."

Mrs. Ben-Gurion, "Paula" to every Israeli, used to live in New York, has grandchildren in New York. She brewed me a pot of tea.

Later, as the TV camera was grinding away and the sound man was picking up every word, I asked the prime minister if it was true that his wife made him wash the dishes. Before he could answer, a strong voice came from the background: "It's a lie."

Paula had spoken.

On The Side

By E. V. Durling

PARIS — In France aspiring executives must learn the business from the ground up. It is expected an executive should be able to skillfully handle the job of any person he supervises. This is especially true of the hotel business. Young fellows wishing to become managers must start at the lowest job in the kitchen and work up.

Max Blouet, the manager of the Hotel George V in Paris is of a third generation of hotel managers. He went through a course of training such as aforementioned. He could handle any job in his hotel, in the kitchen, the dining room or the front office. He supplemented his Paris training with a period in Detroit. His sons are now training to be hotel managers. One will supplement his Paris training by a period at the Hotel Muehlbach, Kansas City, Mo. While working at that hotel he will also take a university course in business administration.

WINE

The wine you order to accompany a meal should be adapted to the food you order. That is, if you wish to be considered a wine expert. Of course, you knew that. But did you know that it is considered that the only French wine that can properly accompany any and all dishes is champagne? Incidentally, I have no desire to be looked upon as a wine expert. So I order chablis no matter what dish I have selected. That is, except when consuming spaghetti or some other item of the Italian cuisine. Then I order chianti.

HAND BALL

The grand old Irish game of hand ball is very popular in Paris. Was interested in noting that the handball team representing Paris has been scheduled to meet the team representing Munich, Germany. Incidentally, the first handball court in the United States was in Brooklyn.

ASIDES

There is a doctor on duty at every police station in Paris at all times. This physician responds to emergency calls from nearby residents. The taxicab originated in France. Name is inspired by the taximeter, a French invention. New York City did not have taxicabs until 1905.

CURE

Ever hear of an "orchid root cocktail"? It is a drink made of a mixture of orchid root powder and hot milk. Is said to be very effective as a cure for that irritating and at times dangerous ailment known as the common cold. Anything that will prevent or relieve a common cold is a nice thing to be familiar with in Paris at this time of the year. Right now it is colder here than in New York and very damp besides. My theme song for Paris strolling is now "Button Up Your Overcoat."

GET IT RIGHT

Have frequently seen it claimed that Sarah Bernhardt's grave is in a cemetery on Montmartre. That's wrong. Sarah is buried in the Cemetery Pere Lachaise. Among the many other famous people buried in this cemetery are Bizet, Rossini, Alfred de Musset, Chopin, La Fontaine, Moliere, Balzac and Oscar Wilde.

Control Failure Blamed In Crash Of Jet Seaplane

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP) — The Navy said today that last week's crash by its second Seamaster came after the big jet-powered seaplane went into an uncontrollable slide into loop.

The XP6M1 Seamaster crashed last Friday over Delaware. All four members of the crew, civilian technicians employed by the Glenn L. Martin Co., bailed out safely.

The first Seamaster was lost last December during a test flight off Chesapeake Bay. Studies of the accident placed major blame for that crash on failure of a control mechanism.

A Navy statement today said the second Seamaster was flying at an altitude of about 21,000 feet and was moving at a speed of about 540 knots in approximately level flight when it went into a tight inside loop "against the full opposite control by the pilot."

Check instruments which recorded the working of the aircraft showed, the statement said, that the horizontal control surfaces at the tail "did not follow the pilot's control" but moved in the opposite direction in such a way as to cause the plane to loop.

Mamie Marks 60th Birthday

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP) — Mamie Eisenhower, in a shining purple satin dress, had a beaming "thank you" today for all the "happy birthdays" sent her way.

"I'm feeling fine and very grateful," the wife of the President said on this anniversary of her birth 60 years ago in Boone, Iowa.

To meet the press in the White House library, Mrs. Eisenhower chose a dress millions had seen on television—the purple satin shirt waist with full skirt she wore the night her husband accepted the renomination of the Republican National Convention in San Francisco last August.

With it she wore an amethyst necklace, earrings and bracelet given to her by the White House press corps on a previous birthday in Augusta, Ga.

Hardy County Lays Plans For Heart Fund Campaign

W.Va. Director Outlines Program

MOOREFIELD — Mrs. Caroline Rainbolt, executive secretary of the West Virginia Heart Association, held a dinner meeting at Hotel McNeill for those interested in the Heart Fund Campaign which will be held early in 1957.

Attending the meeting were Joe, F. Burdette, Point Pleasant, state chairman of the association; Mrs. Clara Brues, Wheeling, and Mrs. Jean Jarvis, Charleston, association workers; Mrs. Ralph King and Miss Ruth Barco, Petersburg; Dr. J. A. Love, S. L. Dodd, Sr., Mrs. W. J. Teets, Mrs. Ashby Scea, Mrs. R. E. Fisher, Mrs. John Harman and Mrs. T. S. Reynolds, Moorefield.

Mrs. Rainbolt gave a brief history of the Heart Association, stating that the first interest was shown in West Virginia in 1923. In 1948, it became apparent that heart disease was a major problem and the association was reorganized for a public program.

The two major aims of the association are research and public education, with the attempt to give the newest findings to all doctors.

Of the funds collected for the Heart Association, Mr. Burdett brought out the fact that 25 percent of the gross proceeds go to the American Heart Association, half of which is used for research. Of the remaining 75 per cent, one third remains in counties that have a planned program and the rest goes to the state organization. One of the things the state organization does is furnish penicillin for children with rheumatic fever.

In Hardy County, for the months and one for one month, October, two patients received penicillin for three months; one patient received penicillin for two months and one for one month.

Mr. Burdette also pointed out that neither committee members nor doctors in West Virginia receive any pay from the Heart Association — all work was given voluntarily.

The campaign will get under way February 1 with February 24 being Heart Sunday.

Martinsburg High School scored four touchdowns in the first three periods and easily defeated the gridders of Beall High School last night in Martinsburg, W. Va. by the score of 27-6.

The Bulldogs notched their fourth win of the season to make their record 4-4-1 while the fourth setback in a row gave the Frostburg eleven an overall mark of 1-6-0.

Jerry Hovermale accounted for two of the Martinsburg touchdowns while Charles Eversole and Billy Beavers had one each. Jack Ellis kicked three extra points in four attempts. George Allen scored Beall's lone td in the final period.

Hovermale Scores Early

Martinsburg scored a touchdown the first time it got its hand on the ball. The home team kicked off to Beall to open the game and after the Mountaineers had made a first down, several plays later Pete Wilson punted to the Bulldogs' 28 and Billy Beavers returned it to the 43. On the first play Hovermale, 145 pound junior, sprinted 57 yards for the initial score and Ellis kicked the extra point.

Later in the opening period MHS drove from its own 43 to the Beall nine, reeling off four first downs before the quarter ended. In three plays, Dickie Dailey and Billy Beavers advanced to the one from where Hovermale took it over on an off tackle thrust. Ellis converted to give Coach John Coburn's team a 14-0 lead.

Interception Nets TD

Martinsburg was headed for its third score later in the second period but this drive halted on the Beall two when the Mountaineers recovered a fumble. After the Frostburg team gained only five yards in two running plays, Wilson attempted a pass which was intercepted by Eversole, who ran 12 yards for the score. Ellis place-kicked the point to make it 21-0.

Beavers took Beall's kickoff in the third period and returned it 45 yards to the Beall 43 before being brought down by George Allen. Two plays later Hovermale ran left end for 20 yards to Beall's three. Beavers went to the two and on the next play scored a touchdown. Ellis' kick for the point was wide.

Pass Sets Up Score

Beall averted a shutout in the final stanza, thanks to a 42-yard pass play executed by George Allen and Jack Dennison, who carried to the Martinsburg five. After Bill Hyde picked up four yards, Allen toted the ball over on a quarter-back sneak. Groves' kick for the point was wide.

Martinsburg plays its final game at Handley High and Beall will host LaSalle, both contests being set for Thanksgiving Day.

Archers Shut Out By Deer; Motorists Bag 8 Since Oct. 1

Bow and arrow hunters seeking deer drew a blank for the first time in four years as the special season came to a close yesterday.

In the past three years the bowmen had averaged three kills a season in Allegany county.

Motorists, however, ran down four deer within the past week, increasing the number of highway kills to eight in Allegany county since the mating season got under way about October 1, according to Joseph A. Minke, regional game warden.

Two deer, one a 175-pound buck was struck by an automobile on the Ellerslie-Corriganville road. A button buck was hit by a car and killed on Sideling Hill.

Only three of the eight motorists who killed deer since October 1 have had the animals checked and claimed, Minke stated.

Vols To Battle Top Defensive Team Saturday

Mississippi Yields 163.6 Yards A Game

[By The Associated Press]

Mississippi, the national college leader in defense, presents the next obstacle to Tennessee, which moved to the top of the national team ratings in the Associated Press poll this week.

National Collegiate A. A. Service Bureau statistics today showed Mississippi as the major college total defense leader for the fourth straight week. Tennessee, oddly, isn't ranked among the first 10 in either offense or defense.

In eight games, Mississippi has yielded an average of only 163.6 yards per game by both rushing and passing. Next best is Oklahoma, ousted from the No. 1 spot in the national ratings, although it is statistically first on offense and a good second on defense. The Sooners have held seven opponents to an average of 181.9 yards per game.

Mississippi and Oklahoma are the only teams listed among the first 10 in defense against both passing and rushing. Ole Miss is a close second to Texas Christian in pass defense and sixth in rushing defense. Oklahoma is fifth in pass defense and ninth in rushing.

TCU has given up only 32.6 yards per game to passes and Mississippi 32.8. Navy has the best defense record against rushing with 104.4 yards per game average and Miami of Florida is second with 110.2 yards.

Louisville Makes Offer For Eagles' Football Franchise

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 14—(INS)—The Philadelphia Eagles heard an offer today to move their National Football League franchise to Louisville, Ky.

Bill Henry, sports director of the Kentucky Fair and Exposition Center, met with officials of the club and made certain undisclosed proposals.

Eagles' president Frank McNamee said later: "There are lots of ifs in this proposition and it also contains a lot of possibility."

He added that "one problem is taxes in Louisville."

McNamee said after all details are cleared up, the entire proposal will go to the Eagles board of directors.

In order to shift any National Football League franchise, ten of the 12 clubs must signify approval.

Louisville also has made offers to the Washington Redskins and Pittsburgh Steelers.

Landy Is 12th In Pre-Olympic Two-Mile Race

Davis, O'Brien, And Dumas Win

By STERLING SLAPPEY

GEELONG, Australia, Nov. 14 (AP)—Forty Olympic athletes risked their health and bones tonight in cold and bad light and marked up surprisingly good results in the first of two big pre-Olympic track and field meets.

American athletes, favorites to win the big events in the games of the 16th Olympiad, won all but three of the events they entered and two of those went to runners who have been receiving their training in American colleges.

There were no world records set on the slippery, poorly-lighted turf course, but a couple of Australian marks were broken and Jim Bailey's time for 1,000 yards—2:07.8—surpassed anything shown in the record books for this odd distance.

Landy Disappoints

The big disappointment was the wretched showing of John Landy, Australia's holder of the world mile record, and the failure of any Russians to compete.

Landy, trying to work back into winning form after having had a lot of trouble with his legs, ran stiffly in the two-mile race won by Britain's Chris Brasher. Landy finished 12th in the field of 14.

He looked so bad that after the race he refused even to try to explain his failure. This was the race that supposedly would help him decide in what events he will compete in the Olympics. Now he says he'll wait a few more days before deciding whether to run in the 5,000 meters.

Kuts Ordered Out

Russia's only entry, Vladimir Kuts, was ordered out of the two-mile race by Gabriel Korobkov, head Russian track coach, and the decision seemed to be sound.

The meet was held on a grass football pitch under ancient lights which were strung on wires hanging over the hurdle course and around the 500 meter track.

A heavy dew fell and the ill-lighted turf was slick and dangerous to athletes who have come so far to compete in the Olympics.

Davis Sets Record

American winners were Jack Davis of Glendale, Calif., who set an Australian record of 13.9 seconds for the 110-yard high hurdles; shot-putter Parry O'Brien, pole vaulter Bob Gutowski and high jumper Charlie Dumas. Two U.S. relay teams also won handsily.

Bailey, a student at the University of Oregon and winner over Landy in the United States last summer, ran what was believed to be the fastest 1,000 yards to win his race. There's no listed world record for the distance. The American record, held by Lon Spurrier, is 2:08.5—the best shown in the books.

The second pre-Olympic tuneup meet is to be held at Bendigo Saturday. At that time Landy, just elected captain of the Australian Olympic team, is expected to make his decision about running.

Geatz Has Shoulder Separation, Returns To Direct LaSalle

Coach Norman F. Geatz, Jr., who was injured on Tuesday while working out with his LaSalle High School football team, suffered a slight separation of the left shoulder but that failed to keep him from directing Explorers in yesterday's drill.

The shoulder was taped up and Norm was back on duty yesterday, priming his team for the Beall game in Frostburg on Thanksgiving Day at 2 p. m.

Geatz stated that the shoulder injury suffered by Tackle Charles Innes in the Shade-Central City game may keep him out of the final contest of the season.

Lane Beats Frankie Ryff

Michigan Boxer Wins At Miami

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 14 (AP)—Kenny Lane's stinging southpaw punches stood off a determined Frankie Ryff tonight and the Muskegon, Mich., lightweight scored a unanimous decision over the New Yorker in the 10-round main event in Miami's Biscayne Arena.

Lane, the fifth ranking lightweight title contender, dropped the first round to the aggressive Ryff but took command in the second and piled up points steadily with sharp blows to the head and body.

Judge Jerry Sherrard gave Lane a 96-92 margin. Judge Sam Margolis and referee Billy Regan scored it 97-95. On the Associated Press card, Lane had a 98-95 edge.

Lane's manager, Jack Kearns, said his clearcut victory "showed the level of championship caliber. He's ready now for the big boy lightweight champion Joe Brown."

A crowd of 1,433 paid a gross gate of $2,697 to see the fight which was televised nationally.

Lane weighed 138½ as he scored the 44th victory of his career against five defeats. Ryff, who weighed 140, suffered his third defeat in 24 battles.

John Witte Named Lineman Of Week

[By The Associated Press]

Oregon State's 232-pound tackle John Witte was named the Associated Press lineman of the week today for his key blocks against Stanford.

The victory over Stanford virtually assured Oregon State of playing in the Rose Bowl New Year's Day against the Big Ten representative.

Earnel Durden was the leading ball carrier for Oregon State with 93 yards on 12 carries, many on reverses.

"On every play Durden ran, Witte was making the key block," said Oregon State Coach Tommy Prothro.

Pitt Is More Ferocious Than 1955 Panthers

Bowl Talk In Air, Army Is Next Foe

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 14 (AP)—Coach Johnny Michelosen won't admit it, but his Pitt football team is beginning to shape up as a more ferocious outfit than the 1955 squad which clawed its way through a rugged schedule to compile a 7-3 record and wind up in the Sugar Bowl.

There's bowl talk in the air again but Michelosen said yesterday Pitt hasn't received any "feelers" yet.

This Saturday the Panthers, with a 5-2 record, meet Army here. After that comes the traditional game with Penn State, then the season windup at Miami, Fla.

Pitt's only losses were 14-0 to California and a 9-6 to Minnesota. The following week Minnesota was defeated by Iowa and the Gopher coaching staff said part of the reason was the terrific pounding Pitt administered.

Michelosen, a former quarterback under the late Coach Jock Sutherland at Pitt and later one of Sutherland's assistants in the pro ranks, is known widely for developing hard charging, sure tackling linemen.

Pitt's attack basically features ground yardage. But Michelosen has a couple of smooth operating "T" quarterbacks, Cory Salvaterra and Darrell Lewis, who pass just enough to keep the opposition on its toes.

Mantle Unanimously Named A.L. Most Valuable Player

Yankee Star Ties Rosen's Vote Of 1953

Sweeps 24 Ballots, Berra Is Second, Al Kaline Third

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (AP)—Mickey Mantle, the New York Yankee slugger who won the American League's triple batting crown, today was unanimously named the Most Valuable Player of the league in the balloting of the Baseball Writers Assn.

Only once before in the history of the voting had a player won without a dissenting vote. That was in 1953 when Cleveland's Al Rosen also swept all 24 ballots of the committee that includes three writers from each league city.

Mantle was regarded as a cinch to win the award for the first time after he paced the American League in three departments. He led in batting average with .353, home runs with 52 and runs batted in with a total of 130. Only eight other men in both leagues ever matched Mantle's triple sweep although Rogers Hornsby and Ted Williams each did it twice.

Berra Is Second

Yogi Berra, a Yankee teammate who won the award the last two years and also in 1951, finished a strong second with 186 points compared to Mantle's maximum total of 336. Berra drew nine seconds and 10 thirds in a one-two Yankee sweep.

Al Kaline, Detroit's right fielder, was the only other man in contention with more than 100 points. Kaline, a .314 hitter who threatened Mantle's grasp on the runs batted in title with 128, piled up 142 points.

The Yankees had three among the first 10 players and Detroit and Cleveland each had two. The others were from Chicago, Boston and Baltimore. Each club had a candidate among the 31 receiving votes, topped by the Yanks with six.

Ted Finishes 6th

Ted Williams of the Red Sox, the only other former winner to get votes, was sixth on the list with 70 points, including two seconds.

There was a wide gap between the Mantle-Berra-Kaline group and the others with Harvey Kuenn, the Detroit shortstop, placing fourth with 80 points. Billy Pierce, Chicago left-handed pitcher, followed with 75 and then came Williams.

Bob Nieman who finished with Baltimore after starting with Chicago tied for seventh place with the Yanks' Gil McDougald at 55 points.

Vic Wertz, the comeback hero of Cleveland who battled polio and returned to hit 32 home runs and drive in 10 runs, was ninth with 45 points. Bob Lemon, always the dependable of the Cleveland pitching staff with his 20-14 record, picked up 40 points for tenth place.

Had Tremendous Year

Mantle had a tremendous year, threatening Babe Ruth's home run record of 60 through most of the season. A September slump cost him whatever chance he had of breaking the record set by Ruth in 1927.

In addition to his 52 homers, Mickey contributed 22 doubles and five triples and stole 10 bases. He appeared in 150 Yankee games. In the World Series he hit three home runs but made only six hits in 24 trips, for a .250 average.

Sandlot To Majors

This time a year ago, Quarterback John Unitas of the Baltimore Colts was playing sandlot football in Pittsburgh after being dropped in training camp by his hometown Steelers.

Buemi's Big Year • Don 6-4, Too Short

The International Carrasco Promoted

By C. V. BURNS

CHARLES Roger Buemi, the Huntington (W. Va.) lad, who excels in football, basketball and baseball for the West Virginia School for the Deaf, appears to have the tri-state area grid scoring title sewed up the second straight year with 110 points to his credit in eight games. He has finished the season with 17 touchdowns and two conversions.

Last fall the Lions' backfield star topped 'em all with 13 TD's and three conversions for a total of 81.

This really is a banner year for the youngster whose vocation is printing.

He started off by posting a 26.8 average in basketball, which was tops for the area. Charley appeared in 20 games and slammed in 336 points. He was in competition with 385 players who represented 30 schools in the area.

Participating in 10 games in the Potomac Valley Conference during the baseball season, Buemi turned in a respectable batting average of .290. He also was the PVC top point-maker in football with 74 markers.

When Master Boing, the French horse, beat Mister Gus, the American entry, for the $70,000 to prize in the International race at Laurel Monday before a record crowd of 33,615, one wag who didn't have the winner, caused quite a few chuckles in the club house when he yelled:

"I'd rather see the French get it lend-lease than take it that way!"

It was a beautiful day for racing until the big event, then the sky filled up with dark clouds as the 7th race got under way and thundershowers sent thousands scurrying for shelter, blocking the doorways and causing much confusion as 10 horses started the gold rush over a mile and a half on the turf.

It was a coincidence that an "international" race should be marked by a storm and confusion like international politics of today and it had to happen on Veterans Day, formerly observed as Armistice Day.

How the announcer on the public address system could detect those horses in the darkness that shrouded the back stretch puzzled us but his guess could have been as good as anybody's.

Cumberland racing fans on hand saw three horses that won at Fairgo in September finish in the money and pay nice prices. Over Dover, Tony Russo up, placed at $10.60; Willie Clark showed with Perturbed at $6.80 and Bristol Joe, Freddie Kratz aboard, came in third and returned $6.40. Clark and Kratz won with the same mounts here.

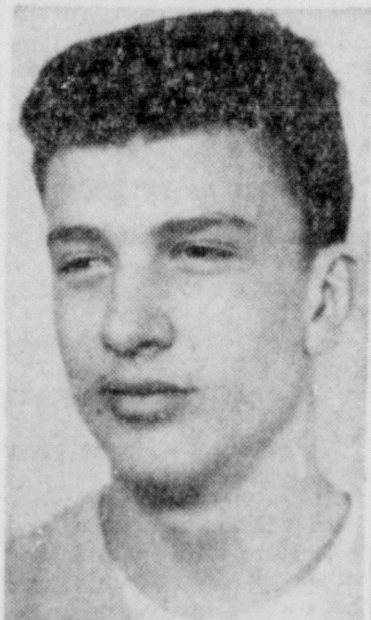

DON MORAN, now helping Coach Waldon Skinner with the Frostburg State Teachers College basketball team, worked out with the Fort Wayne Pistons of the NBA recently but was "too short" for the one position open.

The Pistons want a 6-foot-6 or 6-foot-8 man to work inside. However, they told Moran, former Bruce High, University of Maryland and service cage star, to keep in shape and they probably would call him up before the season ended.

Don is about 6 feet, 4 inches tall.

Moran played with Scranton in the Eastern Pennsylvania League last year and returns there to play this season. The league operates only on weekends.

THERE ARE no undefeated and untied teams in Western Maryland this season but the Eastern Shore has an unbeaten eleven in Wicomico High School of Salisbury, victor in six games.

CHARLES BUEMI

Wicomico knocked Bel Air out of the unbeaten class last week by winning 25-21.

Bel Air probably has the highest scorer in the state in Fred Calcutt, who has 147 points to his credit, one point better than the season record he set last year.

GUNNERS who are confident they'll bag a deer during Maryland's six-day season, December 3-8, can enter now in the contest for $175 in cash prizes being offered by Pretty Boy Chapter, Izaak Walton League, of Hampstead, Md.

The hunter who slays the biggest deer in the state will get 100. Second best is worth $50 and third $25.

A $1 donation must accompany each entry. All entries must be postmarked on or before 7 a. m., December 15.

The money raised is for conservation and 4-H Club work being sponsored by Pretty Boy Chapter.

ST. PHILIP'S Episcopal will be the defending champion when the Central YMCA Sunday School Basketball League opens its 29th campaign Saturday on the "Y" and Allegany High courts.

The St. Philip's team was a newcomer in the loop last year and went all the way.

Grace Methodist, winner of eight titles, has lost out in the finals the past two years.

Centre Street Methodist, St. John's Lutheran and First Presbyterian are three-time winners. Since the league started in 1929 thirteen different churches have bagged one or more titles.

Thirty teams will shoot it out this season, equalling a previous high for total entries.

DAVE CARRASCO, who will be remembered as the coach who had a undefeated basketball team and tutored Maryland Class A champion quint at Montgomery Blair High School (Silver Spring) in 1952, 1953 and 1955, is the new director of athletics at American University in Washington, D. C.

Montgomery Blair beat Allegany High in the 1953 state finals, 60-57, at College Park. Carrasco's 1954-55 quint was unbeaten in 22 games, which probably is a state record.

Dave succeeds Hugo (Dutch) Schultz, who has been at A. U. for 11 years and has resigned to enter business.

Carrasco also will serve as head cage mentor at American U.

J. Fred Colwill, Pimlico's racing secretary, won the Maryland Hunt Cup three times as a jockey.

ADDS STAR TO CROWN—Unquestioned batting king of the big leagues is the New York Yankees' Mickey Mantle, the switch-hitting monarch of maul, who here poses wearing his crown and carrying not one but three sceptres representing his three-way American League leadership in batting averages, home runs and runs batted in. Mickey added another star to his crown yesterday when he was named unanimously as the most valuable player in the American League by the Baseball Writers' Association. He took all 24 first place votes.

Mr. Turf With Sorrentino Up Cops $10,000 Race At Jamaica

Staves Off Rally, Beats Paper Tiger

JAMAICA, N. Y., Nov. 14.—(P)—Jack Amiel's Mr. Turf staved off a desperate rally by E. D. Jacobs' Paper Tiger to eke out a neck score in the $10,000 Cedarhurst Handicapped race before a crowd of 23,842 at Jamaica today. Harry La Montagne's Goulash was third in the field of ten starters, many of whom had performed in stakes earlier in the year. Mr. Turf was a $9.00 second choice with the crowd which attended the next to last day of the New York thoroughbred racing season as Paper Tiger, and his entourage, Man of Destiny, went off the choice.

Mr. Turf, ably ridden by Mike Sorrentino, opened up a long lead in the mile and a sixteenth race going around the first turn and in the run down the backstretch the seven-year-old horse stretched his lead to five lengths over Portersville and Ever Best, who were pressing the lead as best they could. Mr. Turf hugged the rail on the long final bend to come into the stretch with the same lead but all of Sorrentino's urgings were needed to keep him going in the final eighth of a mile.

Paper Tiger, under Pete Anderson, had started off in last place and gradually worked his way through the field to reach a commanding position at the head of the stretch in third place behind Portersville. In all Paper Tiger made up ten lengths in the final half mile but it was not quite enough. Paper Tiger had six lengths the better of Goulash at the finish of the Cedarhurst. Mr. Turf was clocked in an excellent 1:43 4/5 for the distance, which is less than two seconds off the recently established track record. It was the 20th victory in a career of 74 races for Mr. Turf and brought him to within $945 of becoming a $100,000 winner. He was purchased as a yearling by his owner, who is in the restaurant business with former heavyweight champion Jack Dempsey.

Hal Jeffcoat Signs 1957 Redlegs' Pact

CINCINNATI, Nov. 14.—(P)—Pitcher Hal Jeffcoat today signed his 1957 contract with the Cincinnati Redlegs.

It wasn't disclosed whether Jeffcoat got a raise in pay as a result of his late-season showing but he said, "they were very generous with me."

Jeffcoat, a former outfielder, was acquired from the Chicago Cubs after the 1955 season. He had only a 3-2 record on Aug. 15 but won his last five decisions to finish with an 8-2 mark.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 14 (INS)—Getting Clark Gable's name on a contract to star in "Band of Angels" at Warners calls for a celebration. Raoul Walsh, the director, could never see anyone but Clark in this he-man story written by Robert Penn Warren whose "All the King's Men" won a Pulitzer Prize.

The "King" is always hard to get because he knows just what directors and just what stories he wants. He previously worked with Raoul and he likes this story, so when Jack Warner sent him the contract there was no problem in getting Clark's John Hancock.

Raoul is just back from location in Louisiana where "Band of Angels" will be filmed, and Kay (Mrs. Gable) is now well enough to go along with Clark.

In well-informed circles it's said that Charles Feldman may take over MGM production. The annual stockholders meeting is set for February 28 with Lehman-Lazard banking interests said to control three million of the five million shares, and according to my informant, Feldman is their boy. Lew Wasserman, president of MCA, and Leonard Goldenson, president of the American Broadcasting-Paramount Theatres, Inc., both turned down the offer. If Feldman takes the job he'll consolidate his Famous Artists agency with Sam Jaffe, keeping an interest in it but turning over the actual management to Jaffe.

Feldman has always wanted to be a producer, and as head of MGM production he'd certainly get his chance.

I hear from New York that Jackie Gleason has won his long battle to play Skeffington in "The Last Hurrah" for John Ford. Skeffington is supposed to be the former mayor of Boston, James M. Curley, who at first wanted no part of this best seller but now doesn't mind it at all.

James Cagney was supposed to have played Skeffington, but because of his other commitments, he couldn't do it.

P. S.: Jackie will have to take off a few pounds to play the dapper Skeffington.

Early this morning when the overseas operator said "Athens, Greece calling," and Alan Ladd's voice came through saying something about "shooting," I thought the war must be breaking out in another part of the world!

"No," said Alan loudly, "I just wanted to tell you that if the rain permits us to finish shooting 'Boy On a Dolphin' in time, we'll be back home for Christmas. We'll know in a few days whether or not we'll be winging home via Naples and Rome—or whether we'll send for the children to come here. If we aren't delayed, we'll go to Switzerland for the holidays."

Although the connection wasn't too clear the idea came through that the Ladds are hoping, hoping, hoping the weather turns good.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Are Elaine Stewart and Dr. Harman Platt, Beverly Hills physician, secretly married? That's the rumor.

Beverly Hills of Beverly Hills (daughter of Joan Davis and Cy Wills) telephoned to say that she'll have a little brother or sister in May. Her father, Cy, and his bride, Betty Todhunter, have dated the story.

Charlie O'Curran flew to New York to help his best girlfriend, Patti Page, celebrate her birthday. He gave her a gold choker and a miniature choker for her dog.

Nick Ray, wearing a bandage, is out of the hospital where he went for foot surgery.

Rumor is that Keefe Brasselle and Arlene De Marco, one of the De Marco sisters, will middle aisle at Christmas time.

My day was made perfect today with a personal telegram and letter from our wonderful President Dwight D. Eisenhower. That's all today. See you tomorrow!

If it could possibly be construed as a come-on signal, then the convention does not apply. In other words, the convention is not at odds with the old fashioned method for encouraging a come-on. If my partner leads the ace of clubs and I follow with the nine, I want some more clubs. How else can a fellow get a good old fashioned continuation?

South became declarer at a contract of six hearts. West led the king of spades and East realized that the only way to defeat the contract was to force dummy to use one of his high trumps for ruffing purposes. This would establish a trump trick for East. He, therefore, played the nine of spades as a come-on signal.

The bidding:

North South West East
 1 diamond Pass 1 heart Pass
 2 clubs Pass 3 hearts Pass
 4 hearts Pass 5 diamonds Pass
 5 diamonds Pass 6 hearts Pass
 6 hearts Pass

Opening lead: King of spades.

West's improper application of his partner's signal cost him side over 1,500 points in the defense of today's slam contract.

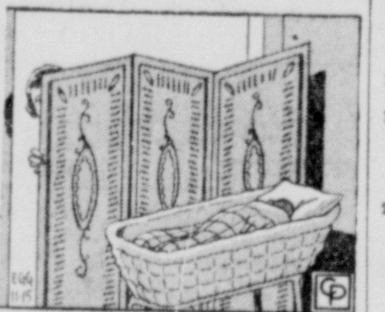

The suit preference signal has great utility when properly handled but as is true in the case of many conventions, it is difficult to prevent abuse.

Under the terms of the convention, the play of an unusually high card by a defender, under circumstances which make it clear that it could not possibly be intended as a come-on signal, must be construed as a request for partner to lead the higher ranking of the two remaining suits. But the phrase too often ignored is "under circum-

A little learning here proved to be a dangerous thing. West had been taught something about the suit preference signal but noting that the nine was an unnecessarily high spade, decided to shift to a diamond. That was the end of the defense.

West's judgment had been unsound. It should have been evident that declarer had tricks to burn in the side suits and that the only hope was the development of a trump trick. East's request for some more spades was a perfectly normal one. Forcing dummy to use the queen of hearts would have done the trick.

Miss Camper To Talk At Civitan Club Meet

Miss Jean M. Camper, supervisor of special education in Allegany County schools, will speak at a meeting of the Civitan Club today at 6:30 p. m. at Central YMCA. Miss Camper will speak on the need for assistance to retarded children.

The club recently adopted aid to retarded children as a project in conjunction with Civitan International. Miss Camper's talk, it was stated, will be made to inform the club about the various phases of help to the retarded child and where efforts of the local club may be concentrated.

As a fund-raising plan for the newly-adopted project, the Civitan Club has made tentative plans to secure Jimmy Dean and his Texas Wildcats, Washington television performers, for a dance at the local Armory in January.

Kelly Requests Compensation Law Review

Says Retired Men Receive Payments

Representatives of the Kelly Springfield Tire Company last night requested a review of the state's unemployment compensation law with regard to retired employees. They made the request at a meeting with the Allegany County delegation to the General Assembly at the county building on Union Street.

F. T. Bell, personnel manager of the local tire plant, along with Harry Nelson, manager of the company's labor department and Chester Fisher, head of Kelly's tax department, presented the company's views on what they termed an increasing problem of industry in this state.

Bell told the legislators that the company has negotiated a contract with its labor union calling for compulsory retirement of employees at age 65 beginning February 1, 1957.

Would Be Eligible

He said he had been informed by authorities at the local branch office of the Maryland Department of Employment Security that these employees would be automatically eligible to draw unemployment compensation.

Bell explained that the company has set up a pension program for all retiring employees which provides $1.80 per month per year of employment as a minimum payment and is computed on a formula which is based upon a man's wages during his employment.

He cited instances of employees retiring voluntarily from the Kelly and then drawing unemployment compensation. He said the company felt that when the use of unemployment funds acts as a bonus arrangement it "is a misapplication of funds."

It was pointed out to the legislators that the company pays approximately 2.7 per cent of its taxable payroll into the unemployment compensation fund. When unemployment wages are paid out to retired employees of the company the money is charged to the company's fund and increases its rate of payment to the state.

Never Came Up

The Kelly officials, when questioned by the legislators, said the practice of voluntarily retired employees drawing unemployment compensation had been checked considerably by the local employment security board but that the board would have to pay those who are compelled to retire.

Delegate Fred Driscoll asked if the question of automatic payment came up during contract negotiations with the rubber union and Bell replied, "No, I never gave it any consideration that we would come in conflict with the unemployment compensation act."

Bell then explained that at least 35 employees face compulsory retirement next February, but was unable to estimate the cost to his company in unemployment compensation, for these men.

Delegate Noel Speir Cook then stated that the whole theory of the law was to aid the man who is unemployed through no fault of his own. He added he felt that a man who is retired through a contract arrangement with the company and the union should not be allowed to draw unemployment compensation as that man is not leaving his work "through no fault of his own."

State Senator Charles M. See, chairman of the local delegation, then advised the Kelly representatives to take their problem to the state's Employment Security Board, now under the direction of former State Senator Robert B. Kimble.

Board Might Rule

Driscoll and Cook also agreed that the matter might be handled by the state board which has power to pass certain rules and regulations and possibly could rule on this matter.

See then said that a special committee report to the Legislative Council, now in session in Baltimore, may have come up with suggestions pertaining to the matter.

Delegate Lester B. Reed said that legislation may already have been submitted by the council to correct the apparent flaw in the law.

Delegate Estel C. Kelley thought perhaps court action would solve the problem, but Cook stated that if the court decided against the company it still wanted the law rectified.

Bell indicated at the close of the meeting he and his associates would take the matter up with the state board immediately.

March Of Dimes Drive County Quota Is $25,000

Buchholtz Says Planer Doing Excellent Job

"It's doing a terrific job for us."

This is the way Commissioner William H. Buchholtz explains the use of the huge 14-ton heater planer, machine which the city of Cumberland has contracted for $7,250 to repair its streets.

"We just completed work on Long Hill with the planer and it has done an excellent job and I believe that the reclamation of surplus material alone will save the city thousands of dollars in repair work," the street commissioner added.

Mr. Buchholtz said the Long Hill job gives the appearance of a new street. The department was able to use the surplus to widen and fix the shoulders of the street in addition to planing the rough sections of the street level.

"I hope to take advantage of the cutting surplus of the planer to the fullest degree of the 25,000 square yards of planing for which the city contracted," Mr. Buchholtz said.

He went on to explain that it appeared that the salvage qualities of the machine would permit the city to fix more streets than at first planned—and "without costing the city a cent."

The street department crews working with the Universal Road Planing Corporation operators of the machine have begun to level and resurface parts of Park Street, Mr. Buchholtz stated.

"Next we intend to resurface Frederick Street between George and North Centre Street where the street has sunk badly. When the work is done it will look as if a new street has been put down," the commissioner said.

"The planer will level off the street and we'll put down a tack coat of oil, then roll out the salvage material like a new coat of blacktop."

Commissioner Buchholtz said the street department now hopes to be able to repair such streets as Reservoir Avenue, Williams Street, North and South Centre streets, Mechanic Street, Baltimore Street, and Wineow Street.

Luke Outlines Expansion Plan For Paper Mill

Outlining in detail plans for expansion at the Luke Mill of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company, John A. Luke, manager, addressed the Cumberland Optimist Club last night at its weekly dinner meeting.

Luke said construction and completion of the Savage River Dam was the major factor in the company's plan to expand at Luke rather than elsewhere. He stated that water in ample supply is essential to papermaking, and because of a shortage of water, production and expansion had been repeatedly curtailed here.

When the mill was a small operation in its infancy, the Potomac River supplied sufficient water. Later, a dam constructed by the company on Stony River helped augment the water supply but it was never enough, Luke said. With the Savage River Reservoir now adding to the flow, a new $50,000,000 expansion program is possible.

400 More Employees

The plant manager explained that after two new, large machines for papermaking are installed, production at the mill will increase by about 400 tons of paper per day. Each of these new machines, he explained, is capable of making in an hour enough paper, 20 feet wide to stretch from Luke to Cumberland and back. At least 400 additional employees are contemplated as the expansion is completed.

Luke outlined a brief history of the company, and showed how economic conditions and changing history have affected the industry.

While the 1920s meant boom times for most business and industry, Luke recalled, the papermaking industry in this country suffered because the government lowered tariffs on goods imported from other countries. As a result, the United States market was flooded with thousands of tons of low-cost Canadian woodpulp. Domestic mills had difficulty competing, and expansion was out of the question.

Now the demand for paper is high and the ample water supply, Luke said, makes expansion possible and the outlook for the industry good.

Will Be "Good Citizen"

Luke observed that the company expects to be a good citizen in the county and community and employees are encouraged to take their fair share of activity in civic programs. During the expansion program however, the personnel will be taxed to the limit to get the job done, and he asked that citizens bear with them, until the task is completed.

He noted too, that the company realizes an expansion of this scope will place burdens of one kind or another on the community. Housing is a problem and the company is investing $100,000 in the development of a tract of land on Horse Rock Hill, where 250 acres of land are being converted into housing sites. These will be individually planned and owned homes, he noted, as the firm does not believe it should attempt to establish a company town, but rather a well-balanced development. The sale of these lots will not be restricted to company employees, he said.

Luke told his listeners that "we are just excited about this expansion as everyone in the area seems to be, and we enjoy every opportunity to talk about it."

The Optimists last night honored their "Optimist of the year," Kermit B. VanPelt of Valley Road, and his wife were guests, and VanPelt, a blind man who has overcome his handicap and become a productive citizen, was presented a plaque honoring him as "Cumberland's Optimist of the Year."

Activities Planned By Rec Dept.

A busy schedule of activities of the Cumberland Recreation Department this month includes the organization of a basketball program, woman's recreation association, revision of the baby sitter lists and the lineup for softball plans for next Spring.

N. Gwynn Fletcher, rec director, announces that the October report has been compiled and copies are being sent to the board members and also to the Mayor and City Council.

Interest continues in the stamp and coin collectors clubs, senior citizen club, bridge classes and twirling program.

Fletcher pointed out the expenditures during the month of October were $2,003.65 and the total expenditure for the first 10 months of the year was $23,178.36.

This summer attendance and net receipts at Constitution Park during the swimming season showed a decrease from the same period last year.

According to Fletcher, the net receipts this year were $4,217.70 in comparison to $5,146.15 during the summer of 1955.

Attendance figures showed that the total admissions to the pool this year were 25,769 as compared to 30,570 last year.

The anticipated expenditures for this month are $2,712.00.

Deer Crashes Auto On Mt. Savage Road

A six-point buck deer fatally injured itself and wrecked an automobile yesterday afternoon on the Mt. Savage Road between Corriganville and Barreilville.

Andrew J. Smith, a custodian at the Post Office building here, said he was driving toward the city en route to work yesterday afternoon at about 1:30, when the buck bounded out of the woods and crashed headon into the left front side of his automobile. The car was damaged to the extent of more than $200 and Smith said he narrowly escaped upsetting the vehicle.

The deer was shot by a resident of the area to end its suffering. Smith said he notified game officials.

Charged With Assault

James Fadley, 1414 River Avenue, received a suspended 60-day sentence to Allegany County Jail yesterday in Trial Magistrates Court on a charge of assault in the threatening of Betty May Van Camp, 205 Mary Street.

State's Attorney's office said Fadley threatened the woman with an eight-inch switch-blade knife. He was placed on probation for a year by Magistrate Donald W. Mason.

GOP Candidates Exceed Normal Share Of Votes

All Obtain More Than 56.1 Per Cent

All Republican candidates on the November 6 general election ballot received more than the normal GOP percentage of the votes in Allegany County, according to an analysis of the official returns.

Of the 40,497 persons registered to vote in the recent election 22,827 or 56.1 per cent of the total are Republicans. Consequently, any Republican receiving more than 56.1 per cent of the total vote would have been presumed to have received some Democratic support.

President Dwight D. Eisenhower apparently got a good share of Democratic votes because his 20,239 votes to 10,775 for Adlai E. Stevenson figured to 65.3 per cent of the total. That is 9.2 per cent more than the normal Republican majority in this traditionally GOP county.

Butler, Hyde Run Well

Senator John Marshall Butler, who was successful in his bid for a second six-year term in the U. S. Senate, received 17,435 votes in Allegany County to 12,365 for George P. Mahoney. Butler's percentage of the vote cast in that contest was 58.5 per cent, which is 2.4 per cent higher than the registered Republican majority.

Rep. DeWitt S. Hyde, likewise successful in his campaign for a third two-year term in the House of Representatives, got 17,418 votes to 12,706 for John F. Foley. Hyde's percentage of the 30,124 votes cast in this race was 57.8 per cent, 1.7 per cent more than the GOP margin.

The 31,477 Allegany County voters who went to the polls November 6 were 77.7 per cent of the 40,497 registered in this county.

Most of the 31,477 voted in the contest for President, Senator and Congressman but fewer than one-fourth of them cast ballots on the seven proposed amendments to the State Constitution.

The highest vote was in the Eisenhower - Stevenson race, where 98.2 per cent of the 31,477 who went to the polls or cast absentee ballots expressed a choice. The 31,016 who voted included two for T. Coleman Andrews, the States' Rights candidate.

Few Vote On Questions

More of the voters made a choice in the Congressional contest than in the Senate race. The total vote for Congress was 95.7 per cent of those who went to the polls, while only 94.7 per cent made a selection in the Senate race.

The best total vote among the seven amendments was on the sixth one, which would broaden the opportunities for ill people to vote by absentee ballot. The total vote on this issue was 7,504, or 24.2 per cent of those voting. The favorable margin was almost six-to-one, 6,400 to 1,104.

Lowest vote was on issue five, where only 5,610 or 17.8 per cent of those balloting, made a decision on the amendment to eliminate obsolete material from the State Constitution.

On the other five issues the percentage voting ranged from a high of 20.6 per cent on the question of annual salaries for Orphans Court judges to a low of 18.5 per cent of two issues concerning the Governor's power.

Magistrate Speaks On Delinquency

"Adolescence has always been a most difficult period for youngsters," Magistrate for Juvenile Causes Morris Baron told a group of the American Association of University Women last night at the Civic Club auditorium.

The Juvenile Court magistrate addressed the women's group on juvenile delinquency and the operation of the court.

"It is particularly difficult for them in this modern age," he said, adding "it is more than doubly difficult because the whole world is in a turmoil. All our concepts, right or wrong, are undergoing a change."

The magistrate went on to say that the operation of Juvenile Court "concerns the handling of the most difficult material — namely, human beings."

"No two are alike. No two react the same way to the same stimulus. You have to treat each as an individual as each presents his own individual problem."

"Each has a distinct background, surroundings upbringing and the same remedy cannot be prescribed for all," he said.

"As in other sciences we have to feel our way and do more research to find out what causes certain human reactions and what makes Sammy tick."

Magistrate Baron then went on to point out the typical offenses which come before his court. The highest number of offenses are theft, then vandalism, unauthorized use of automobiles, truancy and sex crimes.

He said the court has handled in the 10 months of this year 428 individual cases which required hearings besides the numerous complaints, requests for advice and others which come to his attention.

Of these cases, 188 were juveniles, 238 were adults, including non-support cases and contributing to the delinquency of minors. Of these 21 juveniles were committed to Maryland training schools, both boys and girls. Forty-six adults were found guilty of contributing to delinquency, or neglect of children.

"And one of the most time-consuming, exhaustive and important functions of the court is the collection and distribution of funds for non-support cases," Baron said. "The court handled and distributed $161,800.43 in the first 10 months of this year."

Potomac River Cleanup Urged By Legislators

Interstate Group Would Take Charge

By LOUIS PANOS

BALTIMORE, Nov. 14 (AP) — A Maryland legislative committee urged today the formation of an interstate group of lawmakers to help solve the problems of flood control and pollution in the Potomac River Basin.

The group suggested that Maryland officials invite the governors of West Virginia, Pennsylvania, and Virginia and the District of Columbia Commissioners to send legislators to a conference on the subject in Annapolis next January.

The proposal was placed before the Legislative Council, between-sessions screening arm of the Maryland Legislature, by the committee on the Potomac River Basin.

"We believe that much can be accomplished through such a joint meeting," said an interim report by Del. Hervey G. Machen (D-Prince Georges), committee chairman.

No Coordination, Money

The report said an overall conservation and use plan for the basin has been stymied by lack of coordination and congressional appropriations. It mentioned an Army Engineers plan proposed in 1946 to solve needs for flood control and hydroelectric power. Opposed by farming and recreational interests, the plan was rejected and a review of it was ordered by the U. S. Senate Committee on Public Works.

The Machen committee said it has been told by the Army Engineers that the review will last another three to four years, even if the next Congress appropriates funds to continue the study.

After three hearings of its own, the Machen group said it has "barely scratched the surface of the big problem of coordinating waters uses in the Potomac Basin." It scheduled another hearing for Monday and recommended that the next Legislature reappoint the committee or a similar one to continue its work in 1957.

Needed: Integration

"The committee has reached the tentative conclusion at this point that what is needed for the Potomac River is coordination," the interim report said.

"Many plans in the past have been made by different agencies on different levels. There should be an integration of all these plans to provide a master plan of development and use of the Potomac."

Another report heard by the council as it prepared to wind up its 1956 meetings criticized the distribution of pay increases for state employees. It said the increases have "not been consistent with the legislative intent" to put state salaries on an equitable scale throughout the various departments.

The subcommittee's report, submitted by Chairman John M. Whitmore (D-Anne Arundel), recalled similar displeasure by the House Ways and Means Committee last winter. The House group was so incensed by Standard Salary Board practices in allotting pay boosts to state employees that it abolished the board and created a new agency under Personnel Commissioner Russell Davis.

The new board, which took effect last summer, itself came in for some criticism in the Whitmore report.

Inconsistency Charged

"On the basis of the evidence received, this committee is apprehensive that the administration of salary increases since the 1956 General Assembly has adjourned has not been consistent with the legislative intent and has created more personnel problems than existed heretofore," said the Whitmore group report.

The subcommittee proposed legislation to equalize salaries for employees doing the same work in the various state departments.

Davis, commenting on the report, said he favors such legislation in principle. But he emphasized that the administration of salary scales for some 20,000 employees in more than 100 departments is "a complex matter."

"We've got to base it on our recruiting experiences," he said, adding that labor supply and demand are major factors in setting or raising the salary for a particular job.

Some Hard To Fill

It is sometimes much easier to fill a job in one department than to fill the same type of job in another department, he said, and in such cases a pay raise for the hard-to-fill position is the only ready answer.

Besides Whitmore, subcommittee members included Sens. George W. Della (D-Balto 6th), Sherman E. Flanagan (R-Carroll) and Dels. Edward J. McNeal (D-Balto 3rd) and Charles H. Smelser (D-Frederick).

On the Potomac Basin committee with Machen are Sens. Robert P. Dean (D-Queen Annes), James B. Monroe (R-Charles), and newspapers are sponsoring the Harry T. Phoebus (R-Somerset), the concert, guaranteeing the John Grason Turnbull (D-Baltimore) and Jacob R. Ramsburg (R-Frederick) and Dels. Myron L. Bloom (D-Washington), J. Frank able until 5 p. m. today at Raley Jr. (D-St. Marys), Lester Vandegrift's Music Shop and the B. Reed (R-Allegany) and William Syckes Music Store, and after 7 p. m. today at the Fort Hill auditorium box office.
